HISTORY OF Acton, Shapleigh, Parsonsfield, Newfield and Lebanon

General Survey.

There are few towns in our state that do not present many interesting and instructive points of history. But no group of towns are more replete with interesting facts and incidents than Acton, Shapleigh, Newfield, Parsonsfield and Lebanon, the subjects of this sketch. No account, of the necessary brevity and scope of this one, can do justice to this region, but we approach the task with an appreciation of our limits and shall confine ourselves to the more essential and important facts, and shall, with the facts at our hands, gained from research among documents and histories already published and from personal conversation with people familiar with various phases of the past of the group, present these facts as best we can. We wish in the beginning to make especial mention of our indebtedness for data found in the York County History by W. W. Clayton, the History of Parsonsfield, the Maine State Register and numerous documents kindly furnished by the Maine Historical Society of Portland.

Indian Account.

No portion of local history is more interesting than that relating to the redmen who roamed through our forests and fished and rowed our streams through the years of our early settlement and far back into the misty past. Our interest is more than curiosity and our contemplation of those rude and uncivilized people; it rouses in us of today a sympathy for his hard lot, for hard it was, and a pity for his fate, though one that was inevitable.

THE SOKOKIS INDIANS.

*Saco Valley Settlement and Families.

Before the encroachment of pale faced settlers, the entire valley of the Saco and its tributaries was peopled by the numerous Sokokis Indians. These were considered the parent tribe of the Abenaki Nation, which at one time peopled the whole of Maine. One of the most eloquent and statesmanlike of their chiefs once said in council, "We received our lands from the Great Father of Life; we hold only from Him." Their title was unquestionable and unmolested, they roamed the valley from their village at the Lower Falls (Saco), to the settlement on the great bend, on the intervals of Fryeburg. These were in many respects a noble race of red men, evincing unmistakable evidence of having descended from a higher state, and still retained a fine sense of honor and personal dignity.

The Sokokis tribe was once so numerous that they could call nine hundred warriors to arms, but war and pestilence reduced their number to a mere handful. *The residence of the sagamores was on Indian Island, above the lower falls. Among the names of the chiefs who dwelt hereabout were those of Capt. Sunday, the two Heagons, and Squando who succeeded Fluellen. For some years these Indians lived with the white settlers in peace and quietness, some of them acquiring a fair knowledge of the English language by their intercourse. When the increasing number of colonists encroached upon their lands, and hatred and discontent had been engendered by the ill treatment of the whites, these Indians gradually moved up river and joined their brethren who lived in the villages at Pequawket and on the Ossipee.

As early as 1615 there were two branches of the Sokokis tribe under the leadership of two subordinate chiefs. One of these communities was the Pequawket settlement and the other was at the mouth of the Great Ossipee, where before King Phillip's War, they employed English carpenters from down river to build them a strong timber fort, having stockaded walls fourteen feet in height, to protect them against the blood-thirsty Mohawks, whose coming these Indians anticipated. Upon the removal of these people from the locality of their early home on the lower waters of the river to the interior, their names were changed to Pequawkets and Ossipees; the former word meaning the crooked place, the other either taking the name of or giving their name to the river and lake upon which they lived.

A terrible fatal pestilence, thought to have been the small pox, which prevailed in 1617 and 1618, among the Indians of this and other tribes, swept them away by thousands, some of the tribes having become extinct from its effects. At a treaty assembled at Sagadahoc in 1720, there were delegates from the Winnesaukes, the Ossipees, and the Pequawkets. When the treaty was holden in Portsmouth in 1713, the Pequawket chiefs were present. Adeawando and Scawesco signed the articles of agreement with a cross at the treaty held at Arrowsic in 1717.

Some have assumed that the whole community of the Pequawkets lived together on the intervale at Fryeburg in a compact village. This conjecture is not true, for we find that these keen warriors had out-posts some distance above and below the village to guard against surprise. While the larger body of the Indians lived on the great water loop, there were clusters of houses in various places down the Saco valley. One of these hamlets was situated just south of Indian Hill in North Conway, and consisted of about twenty lodges. In the present town of Hiram, not far from the mouth of the Great Ossipee river, there is a high bluff upon the top of which there is a nearly level plateau of about two acres in extent where several families of the Sokokis Indians once lived. A peculiar Indian burial mound seventy-five feet long, fifty feet wide, and about twenty-five high, was discovered on the west side of Lake Ossipee and south of Lovewell's river, soon after the Revolution. This mound, which is located upon a beautiful intervale, is filled with the skeletons of thousands of Indians entombed in a sitting posture and circling around a common center facing outward. These form concentric circles which were added one after another until the outer one was formed when another tier was begun above them. The bodies seem to have been packed closely together and covered with about two feet of coarse sand, while around the foot of the mound were placed stones taken from the river bed to prevent the mound from washing down. This mound is estimated to contain no less than eight or ten thousand skeletons, which would seem to speak of either a numerous or a long established race in this locality.

The Pequawkets seem to have been a peaceful race when not molested by hostile tribes or encroaching settlers. There is no record of any hostile action on their part to warrant the expedition against them made by Capt. Lovewell and his company in 1725. On the other hand there is a record in the office of the Secretary of State in Boston of a petition made by John Lovewell, Josiah Farwell and Jonathan Robbins for a bounty to be paid for scalps of "enemy Indians" that they might be able to take while ranging the woods for the period of one year for that purpose. A liberal bounty was offered, and a company of forty-six men was organized by Capt. Lovewell for an expedition against the Pequawket settlement.

THE PEQUAWKET EXPEDITION.

On April 16, the company bade farewell to their friends and kindred in Dunstable, Mass., the home of many of the party, and proceeded to Contoocook, and to the west shore of Ossipee Lake. Here they halted and erected a fort which should serve as a rallying point and base of supplies. By this time two men had become disabled. One had returned home accompanied by a friend, Benj. Kidder was left at the fort, with the surgeon and a guard of eight. The remaining thirty-four men took up the trail to Pequawket with good courage.

On Tuesday, two days before the battle, the party were suspicious that they had been discovered by the enemy, and on Friday night the guard heard them creeping through the underbrush about their encampment. At an early hour Saturday morning, May 8th, while they were yet at their devotions, the report of a gun was heard, and soon an Indian was seen standing upon a point of land extending into Saco (now Lovewell's) pond. They supposed this was a decoy, to draw them into ambush. A conference was immediately held to determine what course to pursue. The men were anxious for an engagement, but Capt. Lovewell seems to have assented against his wishes. They prepared for action. Assuming that the foe was still in front he ordered the men to lay down their packs that they might advance with greater caution and be less hampered in the fight. When the party had proceeded slowly for about a mile they discovered an Indian approaching among the trees. Several discharged their pieces at him. He returned the fire and seriously wounded Capt. Lovewell with a load of buckshot. Ensign Wyman then shot the Indian and Chaplain Frye scalped him.

Meanwhile Paugus, the Indian chief, with eighty stalwart warriors had been watching every movement from the rear. They had discovered the hidden packs and learned the small number of the attacking party. When Lovewell's company returned to secure their provisions and had reached a tract of land covered with pines a little way back from the pond, the Indians rose from ambush in their front and rear in two parties with guns aimed; the whites also presented their guns and advanced to meet the foe.

Approaching within twenty yards of each other both parties fired. The Indians were badly cut to pieces and took shelter in a clump of low growing pines. Already nine of the attacking party had fallen dead, including Capt. Lovewell. Three were fatally wounded. Ensign Wyman ordered the remaining soldiers to retreat to the pond. Until the going down of the sun the battle went on with much vigor.

About the middle of the afternoon Chaplain Frye fell, seriously wounded. After falling he was heard to pray for the preservation of his comrades. For eight hours the fight had continued and at times was vehement. The whites were obliged to adopt the Indian mode of warfare; they kept near together, each selecting a position for his own safety. Ensign Wyman stealthily crept to a position to cover Paugus, the chief, whom he shot dead. The tradition that Paugus was killed at the water's edge by Chamberlain when they had both gone down to wash their guns was not given as a part of this engagement until some fifty years later.* When darkness fell the Indians withdrew, leaving their dead on the battlefield.

When the moon arose about midnight the survivors of Lovewell's party assembled, faint and exhausted. There were but nine unhurt, eleven were seriously wounded, Jacob Farrar was found to be dying, and two others were unable to rise. Solomon Keyes could not be found. A retreat was decided upon, but the wounded men were unable to proceed far. When they had gone something more than a mile, four of the wounded—Lieut. Farwell, Chaplain Frye, and privates Jones and Davis, could no longer move forward. They importuned their comrades to push toward the Ossipee fort and secure a rescuing party to carry them in. When the men reached the fort, where the guard had been left, to their consternation they found the men had deserted the place and nearly all the provisions gone. Here was another trying experience for the soldiers, who now numbered but nine. If they returned to their wounded comrades whom they had left behind, they feared starvation for themselves as well as for their comrades. The only alternative seemed to be to leave them to their fate. They pressed forward toward Dunstable and for four days it is stated they did not taste food. They then brought down some partridges and squirrels which they roasted and which gave them strength for the rest of the journey. They succeeded in reaching Dunstable, the greater part of them on May 13th, the others two days later. Two of the men, Josiah Jones and Eleazer Davis, who were left to perish finally reached Berwick. Chaplain Frye and Lieut. Farwell did not survive.

Such was the effect on the attacking party. The Pequawkets suffered nearly as badly, and this was the death blow to their national power. According to the census of the Indians taken by Capt. Giles the following year they had but 24 fighting men left among them, and some of these carried serious wounds received in the fight. The news of the defeat and disaster cast widespread sorrow throughout the Massachusetts homes from which the soldiers had gone. A party was immediately sent to the battle ground and the bodies of the Captain and ten of his men were buried at the foot of an ancient pine. A monument has since been erected to mark the spot. The General Court appropriated 1500 pounds, and a grant of the lands now comprising the towns of Lovell and Sweden to the survivors and heirs of the men who were lost. This we should consider a very liberal reward for such a murderous undertaking attempted chiefly for mercenary purposes upon a peaceful settlement of a disappearing race of men.

Many of the Pequawkets removed to Canada after the battle together with Adeawando, their chief, and united with the St. Francis tribe. At the beginning of the war with France the remnant of the tribe that had lingered around the old home place of their ancestors on the Saco, expressed a desire to live with the whites, and they were accordingly removed to a suitable place about fifty miles from Boston, where was good fowling and fishing. These men were present at the Treaty of Falmouth in 1749, between the Eastern Indians and the whites. After the fall of Quebec a few members of the tribe remained about the head waters of the Connecticut until the beginning of the Revolution. The last mention of the tribe living at Pequawket was in a petition to the General Court dated at Fryeburg, in which the able bodied men asked for guns, ammunition and blankets "for fourteen warriors." These men served faithfully on the patriot side and were liberally rewarded by the government. After the war they returned to their families in the vicinity of Fryeburg where they were well remembered by the venerable people of the last generation. Among those remembered were Tom Heagon, Old Philip and Swanson. Philip, the last known chief of the Pequawkets, signed a deed in 1796, conveying the last rights of his tribe in Maine and New Hampshire to the men who had in two brief centuries, usurped their lands and with disease, annihilated the people that had for unknown centuries held unquestionable title to the entire Saco Valley.

LOCATION AND GENERAL DESCRIPTION.

The town of Parsonsfield lies in the extreme northwest corner of York County. It is bounded on the north by the Great Ossipee river (River of Pines), on the west by Effingham and Wakefield, N. H., on the south by Newfield and on the east by Limerick and Cornish. The area comprises about forty thousand acres.

The surface of the town is considerably broken, its highest elevation being Ricker's Mountain with an altitude of 1600 feet above sea level. The two next highest mountains are Cedar and Randall's Mountains in the order named. Seminary is about 1200 feet and the average altitude of the land in town is not far from 1000 feet.

The principal river is the Great Ossipee with a total length of 33 miles and a drainage of about 240 square miles. Kezar Falls furnishes the best water power where there is descent in its waters of 50 feet in one mile. Other rivers are South River the next in size, the Bickford and Blaisdell streams which flow into the Little Ossipee.

There are numerous ponds in town, Province Pond being partly in town, while Long Pond and Mudgett's Pond are both good sized sheets of water wholly in town.

All in all Parsonsfield can, in common with many other towns, boast the beautiful scenery and healthful climate so characteristic of the Old Pine Tree State. Scarcely a farm in town is without pure boiling springs of the purest and coldest water. Her natural facilities for the comfort of her citizens and the welfare and progress of the community are second to none.

EARLY PROPRIETARY AND SETTLEMENT.

In 1661, Fluellen, Sundy and Hobinowell, three noted Indian sagamores, conveyed to Maj. Wm. Phillips, of Saco, a tract of land bounded in part as follows:—

“From the Saco River up the Ossipee to Ossipee Pond, thence to Ossipee Mountain, thence to Humphrey Chadbourne’s logging camp.” The territory comprising the town of Parsonsfield, located within these bounds, was probably the hunting ground but not the home of the Ossipee Indians. The last of the savages disappeared from this region about 1761, and after their departure white hunters roamed through the forest in quest of valuable furs.

During the summer of 1771 Thomas Parsons, who had recently become a resident of Leavittstown, having business in Saco, penetrated the woods in Parsonsfield. The beautiful scenery of the region and the fertility of the soil inspired him with a desire to settle here, and Aug. 5, 1771, he purchased the tract of proprietors claiming under will of Mrs. Bridget Phillips. Shortly after coming into possession of the land he employed Joseph Cram, of Exeter, to survey his township. The survey, begun Oct. 11, 1771, and completed Nov. 1st of the same year, was the only full survey ever made. Parsonstown was wild land without organization up to 1785.

Early in the spring of 1775 Eben and John Moore left Scarborough to make homes in the wilderness. Penetrating several miles beyond any known settlement, they settled in the southeast corner of Parsons' purchase. Here each cleared a little space, built a log cabin, and prepared for larger farm operations the next season. In June John joined the army investing Boston, but returned to his home at the expiration of a year's service. Eben left in August for his wife and child who arrived in October.

The same spring, but probably a little later, John and Gideon Doe erected camps in this section and were joined by their wives and children before the close of the summer.

Jere Avery, according to tradition, was also a pioneer. He came in 1776, settled on the western side of Ricker's Mountain where he lived until 1806.

George Kezar, a noted hunter, brought his wife and three children to his favorite hunting camp near the Kezar meadow, January, 1778.

Amos Blazo came in March of the same year.

Gilman, Samuel and John Lougee, brothers, came shortly afterward. Samuel Pease made ready a home for his wife and daughter who came in November, 1779.

These eleven households, comprising eleven men, nine women, one maiden, seven imported and seven native born children, made up the whole population of Parsonstown at the beginning of the year 1780.

As the Revolutionary War drew to a close many soldiers sought homes in Parsonsfield. Other immigrants joined them bringing the population up to about three hundred at the time of organization.

A list of tax-payers, residence here in 1785, with their places of residents is as follows:—

Col. Joseph Parsons, above Wiggin schoolhouse; Elisha Piper, South Road; Samuel Pease, Samuel Pease, Jr., and Zebulon Pease, and Joseph Pease, South Road; Asa Pease, West Parsonsfield; Josiah Pease, above Dearborn Mill; Samuel Page, south part of town; Taylor Page, south of Cedar Mountain; Philip Paine, Porter Road; Jonathan Towle, North Road; Wm. Sanborn, near Emerson school house; Jacob Scagel, Mountain Road, north of Cedar Mountain; Lot Wedgewood, North Road Village; Jesse Wedgewood, between Middle and South Roads; Samuel Weeks, East Parsonsfield; Benjamin Smith, Blaisdell Mills.

INCORPORATION.

The town of Parsonsfield was incorporated by act of the General Court of Massachusetts, approved March 9, 1785. The name was given to it in honor of Thomas Parsons, Esq.

Under a warrant issued by Simon Frye, Esq., Justice of the Peace, the first town meeting was held at the house of Mr. Parsons, Aug. 29, 1785. Thomas Powers, Esq., was chosen moderator; John Doe, town clerk; Thomas Powers, John Doe and Gilman Lougee, selectmen; Samuel Page, collector and constable; Gideon Doe and Thomas Parsons, Jr., assessors; Elijah Piper, Josiah Colcord, James Marston and David Mudgett, tythingmen; Geo. Bickford, Taylor Page, Philip Paine, Gideon Doe and Samuel Lougee, surveyors of highways; Job Colcord, field driver; Walter Neal, pound keeper; Edward Chase, surveyor of lumber; Jeremiah Avery, sealer of leather; Tanner Doe, lot layer; Samuel Pease, David Hobbs and Edmund Chase, committee to examine the selectmen's accounts.

MILITARY HISTORY.

Among the early settlers in what is now Parsonsfield were several veterans of the Revolution, sturdy pioneers enured to hardships and privation who, attracted by a desire to settle in the new country came to this section and joined in the upbuilding of the town.

The military history of the town itself however really begins with a meeting to organize militia, held Nov. 5, 1789. The officers chosen to command the organization were Joseph Parsons, captain; James Morrison, first lieutenant; and Samuel Lougee, second lieutenant. Opposition to these men and feeling displayed at the election resulted in a division of the town and the formation of two companies of foot. The military organizations continued for many years.

WAR OF 1812.

Capt. Rufus McIntire recruited a company in York County for service in this war, and was commissioned in the regular army. He marched with his company to the northern frontier, was at Plattsburgh under Gen. Macomb, and remained with the army until the close of the war. Not many citizens of this town entered the service in this war.

In the Mexican war Parsonsfield had at least one soldier, Edwin A. Whitten, who was commissioned as lieutenant.

CIVIL WAR.

The response of the citizens of Parsonsfield to the call of the President for troops at the outbreak of the War of the Rebellion was ready and loyal, and throughout the four long, dreadful years of suffering and conflict the town was ever willing and prompt to contribute men and aid.

Parsonsfield is credited with one hundred and eighty-five soldiers, of which number ninety-eight were residents of the town. Many of these soldiers were killed in battle, many others died of wounds or disease, several were taken prisoners or were reported missing and the fate of others is unknown. Many of their comrades who survived the hardships and privations of this great war have since joined the ranks of the dead.

We have not the space to recount the individual services and to give the record of these men and those of the soldiers who are with us still, and we must confine ourselves to the simple list of names. We can say of them all, however, that they did their duty and did it nobly and well, and that their bravery and loyalty are a credit and an honor to their town.

FOREIGN ENLISTMENTS.

J. E. Chick, Ira Clough, Clark Eastman, Lorenzo French, Ivory Hayes, Wm. Hayes, New Hampshire; Edwin Bailey, Jas. Davis, J. E. Lougee, C. M. Moore, G. W. Morrill, Franklin Ramsell, Massachusetts; G. M. Bickford, Illinois.

SCHOOLS

The first town meeting voted $100 in produce for the support of schools in Parsonsfield. Elisha Piper and James Hart were early school masters, and taught in the first rough school houses of this town for many years.

The citizens of Parsonsfield have always taken a great interest in the welfare of the schools and the education of the young people of the town and have constantly increased the school appropriations when the need was felt. In addition to the annual appropriation voted at the town meeting each year, there is a fund created from the sale of ministerial and school lands, half of which, amounting to about $60 a year, goes to the support of schools.

NORTH PARSONSFIELD SEMINARY.

The North Parsonsfield Seminary was established under the auspices of the Free Will Baptist Church in 1833. The building was burned Sept. 21, 1854, and a new one erected at North Parsonsfield in 1855.

The originators and chief leaders in this enterprise were Elder John Buzzell and Dr. Moses Sweat. Rev. Hosea Quimby was the first principal, with a salary of $400 a year. A fund was formed for its support by the founders.

The institution is considered an excellent preparatory school and draws students from all the surrounding country.

CHURCH HISTORY

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.

At the second town meeting of the citizens of Parsonsfeld, held in 1786, £90 were voted for preaching the ensuing year. The first meeting house was begun on the Middle road, after much fasting and prayer and many delays, in 1790; but, as a Baptist sentiment prevented unity of action, the frame stood exposed to the weather for two years, when the town voted to finish the meeting house, and that it should be considered a town house. Either society was allowed the privilege of buying it on payment of the other society's investment.

After two years further delay (in 1794), £25 were voted to repair the frame, and it was finished by the town. It was first voted to organize a church in 1792, and settle Rev. Benjamin Straw, who was employed to preach. Rev. Rufus Anderson succeeded Mr. Straw in 1793, and was in turn succeeded by Rev. Benjamin Rolfe in 1795.

Mr. Rolfe was a native of Newburyport, Mass., and a graduate of Harvard in 1777. His ministry in this town continued until May 31, 1815. He died here in 1817, at the age of sixty-two years.

The Congregational Society was incorporated Feb. 27, 1802, on petition of Thomas Parsons and twenty-seven others. The present church was built in 1830.

Pastors since the Rev. Mr. Rolfe are as follows: Henry True Kelley, June 29, 1825-June 27, 1827; Chas. S. Adams, Sept. 17, 1828-Dec. 27, 1831; David P. Smith, July 11, 1832-Aug. 19, 1834; Samuel Ordway, Dec. 5, 1838-Dec. 8, 1841; Elias Chapman, stated supply, 1849-1852; Jonas Fiske, stated supply for 1859; Edmund Burt for 1860; John H. Mordough for 1862; Geo. S. Kemp for half of 1864; N. Lord; David L. Jones.

The church has had no pastor for many years.

FREE BAPTISTS.

The Free Will Baptist Church in Parsonsfield was organized in 1790, by Elder Benjamin Randall, of New Durham, N. H., the founder of this denomination. Elder Samuel Weeks was the first pastor. Elder John Buzzell took the pastoral charge in 1798, and continued as pastor for about sixty years. During the last thirty years of his life he was assisted in his ministerial duties by the teachers of the North Parsonsfield Seminary.

The first house of worship occupied by the Society was of rude construction, and was soon replaced by a larger and more substantial building, erected at North Parsonsfield in 1804. This was destroyed by fire in 1852, and a third one was erected soon after.

The society was released from the support of the Congregationalist Society in 1795, but it was not until 1823 that the members, with the other churches, began to draw their share of the town fund arising from ministerial lands.

Rev. L. Brackett commenced laboring with the church as assistant to Elder Buzzell in 1851. During his ministry the present church was built (1863). He was succeeded by

B. S. Mason in 1854.

In 1857 C. Hurlin was made pastor, and remained until 1860, when G. S. Bradbury was ordained. The later continued as pastor for a period of nearly five years.

In 1865 C. Hurlin was called to a second pastorate, and remained until 1867, when E. C. Cook was appointed. Rev. L. Brackett succeeded Mr. Cook in 1871 and was in turn succeeded by Rev. F. F. Millett in 1878. Mr. Millett remained until 1882. The next pastor was the Rev. C. Jones who came in 1886. Succeeding pastors have been J. L. DeMott (Limington), 1887-94; H. Church, 1895; S. D. Church, 1896-8; W. Brown, 1899-1901; Henry Parsons, 1903-4; F. C. Potter, 1906.

EAST PARSONSFIELD FREE BAPTIST CHURCH.

This church was organized July 3, 1822, by Elder John Buzzell, Deacon Samuel Moulton, John H. Rand, and Moses Banks. Christopher Bullock was the first pastor. After his death, which occurred April 18, 1824, the church was supplied by itinerant preachers for a period of six years. In 1830 J. Fernald was chosen pastor. He remained until 1836. In 1840 John O. Hackett became pastor, and he, with J. W. Hubbard, supplied the pulpit until 1846.

Shortly after James Rand became pastor, and remained until 1852. Uriah Chase, Z. Jordan, and others supplied for four years. G. W. Whitney was pastor from 1856 to 1861, and was succeeded by P. Caverly, whose ministry lasted two years. The latter was succeeded by G. W. Gould who remained the same length of time. E. Cook, who was chosen pastor in 1865 was succeeded by H. Brewer, in 1870. Rev. L. T. Staples was pastor in the latter part of the seventies, and remained until 1894. Rev. James Perry came in 1899 and was the last pastor of the church.

SOUTH PARSONSFIELD FREE BAPTIST CHURCH.

This church was organized by a council which met at the old meeting house, July 15, 1830. There were thirty-six members at that time.

The first meeting house in which the council met had been erected as a branch house of the north church. A second house of worship was built at South Parsonsfield in 1839, and dedicated by Rev. Silas Curtis.

The first pastor was Andrew J. Foss, who remained until Oct. 16, 1832. A list of succeeding pastors is as follows: D. Jackson, July 6, 1834-May 8, 1836; Carlton Small, July 7, 1836-Aug. 24, 1837; Thos. M. Preble, Jan. 27, 1838-July 15, 1838; A. R. Bradbury, 1838-9; Z. Jordan, 1839-46; J. W. Woodman, 1846-7; Z. Jordan, 1847-8; Wm. T. Smith, 1849-52; C. O. Libby, 1852-60; C. Bean, 1860-6; G. W. Whitney, 1861-2; O. F. Russell, 1862-4; A. Caverno, 1864-6; F. W. Towne, 1866-71; C. B. Peckham, 1871; P. S. Burbank, supply, 1873; H. P. Lampey, 1874-7; F. Bardeen, 1877-80; J. A. Adams, 1881-4; L. G. Chart, 1885; L. C. Clark, 1886-89; Chas. C. Foster, 1890-4; H. Church, 1895; S. D. Church, 1896-1900; F. W. Dark, 1901.

BAPTIST CHURCH.

The Baptist church in Parsonsfield was organized in 1792, by Rev. Levi Chadbourne, David Marston, Caleb Marston, James Marston, John Doe, Walter Neal, Joseph Towle, Richard Taylor and others. The first pastor was Rev. Levi Chadbourne. The next pastors were Rev. Wentworth Lord and Rev. Wm. Slason.

The society, once strong in numbers, was composed of members of strong religious character, and did christian work for many years. The membership, reduced by deaths and removals, is now small.

Since the pastorate of the Rev. J. M. Coburn, in 1870-71, the church was supplied whenever the members met for worship until 1906, when the Rev. Frank Lougee assumed the pastorate.

SOCIETY OF FRIENDS.

Meetings of this society were held in Parsonsfield as early as 1805-06. The first meeting house, which stood on the Middle road, was built about two years later. Edward Cobb preached here and Friends came from Limington to join in the services. A second meeting house was built about a mile and a half farther east of the first, in 1844. This was occupied until 1878, when a larger one was erected in the village of East Parsonsfield at an expense of $1800.

The Limington and Parsonsfield preparative meetings were set off from Windham, and became a separate monthly meeting March 8, 1846, under the name of the Limington Monthly Meeting and afterwards held services alternately at Limington and Parsonsfield. The society has gained constantly in numbers and has always been progressive and active in religious endeavor in this town.

CHRISTIAN ADVENT CHURCH.

This church is the out growth of a series of social prayer meetings held in West Parsonsfield by D. W. Stevens and others in 1869. Soon after these meetings the Rev. Mark Stevens became pastor of the newly formed society which was organized as a corporate body under the State law Aug. 21, 1877, with twelve members.

David W. Stevens was ordained July 4, 1876, and afterwards did evangelist's work as a minister of the church.

The meeting house was erected near Province Pond, and dedicated in June, 1872, by Rev. Mr. Stinchfield of Effingham, N. H., and Rev. Horace L. Hastings of Boston, Mass. Rev. Mark Stevens was pastor in 1880, in which year the church held a membership of about thirty. Since 1880, there has been no settled pastor.

METHODIST CHURCH.

The first pastor of this church was J. L. Folsom, 1892. Succeeding pastors are as follows: M. E. King, 1893-5; F. Grovenor, 1896; J. Nixon, 1897-8; Geo. C. Andrews, 1899; Jas. H. Bounds, 1900-4; H. A. Peare, 1905.

This church has been increasing in numbers and prosperity and has become one of the most important religious forces in this section.

The pastors of the Free Baptist Church at East Parsonsfield (not the "Old School") since 1880, have been Francis W. Towne, C. E. Brown, and at Kezar Falls, C. E. Brown until 1895, since which time there has been no pastor. No less than one hundred and fifty clergymen have occupied the pulpits in Parsonsfield.

PROFESSIONAL MEN.

LAWYERS.

The first legal practitioner in Parsonsfield was Hon. Rufus McIntire. He was born in York in 1784, graduated at Dartmouth College in 1809, and was admitted to the York county bar in 1812. He took an active part in the War of 1812, on the close of which he located in Parsonsfield. Mr. McIntire was a member of the Constitutional Convention of the State of Maine, first Representative in the Legislature from Parsonsfield, County Attorney, and Member of Congress for four years. He died here in 1866.

Hon. James W. Bradbury graduated at Bowdoin in the famous class of 1825, and was admitted to the bar in 1830. He afterwards located in Augusta, and became distinguished as United States Senator for a term ending March 4, 1853.

Hon. L. De M. Sweat, a graduate of Bowdoin in 1837, and of the Cambridge Law School in 1839, removed to Portland in 1841, when he began practice.

William B. Wedgwood, L. L. D., M. M., a descendent of one of the first settlers here, and a native of this town, graduated at the University of New York City in 1836, and was admitted to the bar of New York State in 1841. He became Professor in the law school of his alma mater in 1858, received the degree of Doctor of Laws from Rutgers College in 1860, and was elected Vice-Chancellor of the National University at Washington, D. C., in 1870.

Hon. Zenas P. Wentworth of this town graduated at Waterville College in 1836, and practiced law in Houlton, where he was made County Attorney and Judge of Probate. He died in 1864.

Robert T. Blaizo, Esq., was a member of the bar for many years, coming to Parsonsfield in 1839.

John Bennett, Esq., has practiced here many years, making a specialty of conveyancing, and devoting much time to his profession as a civil engineer.

Geo. P. Davis, Esq., began practice at South Parsonsfield in 1886, and continued until 1900-1.

In 1887, W. B. Hutchinson commenced practice at Kezar Falls. He remained only a short time.

C. F. Fox came in 1888 to begin practice. Nathan Currier and Geo. E. Davis located the same year. The latter is still in practice. The law firm of Fox and Gentleman practiced at Kezar Falls for several years. E. F. Gentleman was here only a few years, remaining not long after Mr. Fox ended his practice here.

J. Merrill Lord, Esq., began practice at North Parsonsfield in 1895, and is still in practice.

PHYSICIANS.

The first physician to settle in Parsonsfield was a Frenchman whose name is unknown. He located at North Parsonsfield but remained only a few years.

Dr. John J. Blaisdell was the next to settle here but how long he remained is not known. He removed to Dixmont, Maine, in 1800, and died there six years later.

Dr. James Bradbury, the next in point of time, was born in York, and settled in this town in 1798. He soon acquired an extensive practice, which he continued more than forty years, until his death.

Rev. Dr. Wm. Taylor came to Parsonsfield in the year 1800. He sold his practice to Dr. David W. Clark, who established himself here in 1803, and remained until 1819, when he removed to Effingham, N. H.

Dr. Moses Sweat was born in Portland about 1789, and came to this town in 1801. He studied medicine with Dr. Bradbury and completed his course at the Maine Medical School. He commenced practice in this town, became distinguished in his profession, served in the Maine Legislature, and was appointed a member of the Governor's Council. He was one of the founders of Parsonsfield Seminary. His death occurred in August, 1865.

Dr. John B. Sweat, a son of Dr. Moses Sweat, died in 1856. Dr. Moses E. Sweat, another son, graduated at Bowdoin, and practiced at Limington Corners for twenty years. He removed to Parsonsfield in 1862 and practiced here many years.

Dr. J. W. Dearborn was here more than twenty-five years. He was United States Examining Surgeon, and a prominent man in the medical profession.

Dr. Frank Devereux came in 1881, and began practice at Kezar Falls, where he has since resided.

Drs. E. B. Ham and J. A. Kenard began practice here in 1886, the former at Kezar Falls, the latter at East Parsonsfield.

Dr. S. A. McDaniel came to Kezar Falls in 1887 but remained only a short time.

Dr. J. S. Barker came in 1893 and remained until 1897, when Dr. Eugene Chellis came. The latter remained until about four years ago. Dr. Ansel S. Davis commenced his practice here in 1904.

History of Newfield.

GENERAL DESCRIPTION.

The town of Newfield is bounded on the north by Parsonsfield, on the east by Limerick and Waterborough, and on the south by Shapleigh and Acton, and on the west by Effingham, N. H.

It presents a varied surface, Picket Mountain in the east rises to the south of Newfield village, and extending two miles to the south, culminates in the highest point near Shapleigh line. This is by far the highest point in town. Across the little Ossipee to the west are plains, beyond which beautiful lakelets border the more distant and broken lands, dotted with neat farm houses and showing signs of prosperity and contentment.

There are many natural deposits of silver, iron, lead and gold. Limestone occurs in various parts of the town. Prospect mining for silver has been conducted on Bald Hill, near Adams' pond, since 1876, and a vein 16 inches in width has been opened, but owing to lack of capital, little development has followed.

Balch pond, in the southwest, lies partly in New Hampshire and partly in Newfield and Acton. It is drained by the little Ossipee river, which also receives the waters of Drew's pond, flowing through Adams' pond in the center of the town, and Turner Pond in the south. The river forms the southern boundary of the original grant, passes through the town at the western slope of Picket Mountain, and turning east, forms part of the boundary line between this town and Limerick. Poverty Pond in the east corner, and Simms near Adams' Pond, cover an area of about 200 acres each.

LAND TITLES.

The lands comprised in the original town of Newfield were a part of a large tract lying between the Great Ossipee and Little Ossipee Rivers, and "extending from the river Nechewannock to Saco River" conveyed by Capt. Sunday, Indian Sagamore, to Francis Small of Kittery, and was supposed to be equal to twenty miles square. Two large blankets, two gallons of rum, two pounds of powder, four pounds of musket balls and twenty strings of beads were given in payment. The deed was dated Nov. 28, 1668, and signed by the Indian's mark of a turtle.

Small sold an undivided interest to Maj. Nicholas Shapleigh of Kittery, and April 30, 1711, transferred the remainder to his son.

The original deed which had never been recorded was discovered among Samuel Small's papers in 1770. The heirs of Shapleigh and Small had it recorded, the title was confirmed and a partition was effected Aug. 5, 1771. The tract was run out by James Warren, surveyor, and to the Small heirs were assigned all included between the Ossipee Rivers, except Parsonsfield and half of Limerick, the Shapleigh heirs receiving title to land included in the original plantation of Shapleigh south of the Little Ossipee.

April 9, 1778, the proprietors claiming and holding under Small, transferred to Elisha Ayer one-half of a tract of land between Pearsonstown and Little Ossipee River, and Limerick line and New Hampshire line, upon condition that he "lot the whole tract into one-hundred acre lots, and complete a check or plan of the same;" build a saw mill, clear two main roads through the tract, and settle twenty families upon his half. A survey was made during the year by John Wingate, and the number of acres found to be 14,543.

That portion lying south of the Little Ossipee, and containing from 600 to 800 acres, was taken from Shapleigh, and annexed in June, 1844. The title to all these lands was confirmed by the committee on Eastern Claims, under the bill passed Oct. 30, 1782, and the tract became known as Washington Plantation.

EARLY SETTLEMENT.

In June, 1777, Paul McDonald and Zebulon Libby began clearing land upon the two northeast corner lots in the town. Mr. McDonald said that Nathaniel Doe was already on his farm when they began clearing. This would make Doe the first settler in the town, but it is not known how much earlier he came. The Doe family occupied the only house in the southwest part of the town for some years. It was near Davis' Corner.

McDonald and Libby cleared sufficient land in 1777 to raise a crop of rye, which they planted, built a log house for each, and returned to their homes in Scarborough to spend the winter. The next year they returned with their families. Mary, daughter of Zebulon Libby, was the first white child born in the town. She married a Mr. Milliken.

One York settled upon the southeast side of Dannel's Hill previous to 1780, but removed in 1785. A Mr. Berry from New Durham, N. H., came in 1780, but being a loyalist removed to Canada at the close of the Revolution.

During the year 1780, William and Eben Symmes came from Ipswich, Mass., and settled at the north of Symmes' Pond, on the old road leading from the village to West Newfield.

Geo. Thompson, father of Daniel and Geo. Thompson, came from Scarborough and settled upon the Benj. Piper farm.

Ephraim Moulton came from Hampton, N. H., with his four sons,—Stephen, David, Levi, and Simeon,—and settled near the north line of the town, east of North Newfield, on the south Parsonsfield road, all five taking adjoining lots.

Elijah Drew came from Durham and purchased the Cape Ann right, but did not move his family into town until 1789. He settled at Drew's Corner, half a mile east of the pond bearing his name. Rev. John Adams, also from Durham, came in 1780 or '81. Leander Nelson of Portsmouth, N. H., settled in the centre of the town, on land where the village of West Newfield is situated. Joseph Dam, of Madbury, N. H., settled at what is now Newfield Village, in 1784, and a few months later removed to Davis Corner, a mile north-east of Drew's Pond.

Thos. Smith, who moved Rev. Mr. Adams to Newfield in an ox-cart, settled east of Picket Mountain in 1785. Thos. Davis, a brother-in-law of Elijah Drew, settled near Nathaniel Doe. James Crummett who had a farm on the Middle road, sold to a Mr. Hill in 1785-86, and went away. All these were from Durham, N. H.

Elisha Ayer, the chief proprietor, moved to Washington Plantation in 1790, and settled on the farm south of Symmes' Pond, afterwards owned by Ichabod Knox. James McLellan, his wife's brother, came from Saco the next year and settled near Home Pond. Valentine Bagley, of Durham, settled near Mr. Davis in 1790. Zachariah Dannels came from Newburyport, Mass., in 1794-95. Benj. Loud of Portsmouth, N. H., came in 1797. Stephen Piper, from Stratham, N. H., settled on the Asa Piper place. John Mitchell and Joseph Towne, of Kennebunk, settled on Mountain Road. The place where Jethro Smith settled has since been known as "Old Rye Field."

Simeon Tibbetts was an early settler as was also Hosea Lord, a licensed innkeeper, in 1804. Josiah Towle, Wm. Durgin, David Staples, Elijah Drew and James Ayer, were merchants the same year.

The first chaise in town was owned by Rev. John Dame.

MILITARY ACCOUNT.

THE REVOLUTION.

Many of the first settlers here came direct from service in the Revolutionary armies. The following were among them: James Crummett, Wm. Campernell, enlisted in Massachusetts, Eben Boothby, enlisted from Scarborough; Wm. Symmes, from Ipswich, Mass., wounded at Bunker Hill; Eben Symmes, who fought at the battle of Monmouth; Robert Thompson, who was at the surrender of Burgoyne; Geo. Thompson, Wm. Libby of Kittery, at surrender of Burgoyne; Stephen Wood, who fought under Arnold, and was taken prisoner at Quebec; Nicholas Kinnison who was present at the hanging of Major Ardre; James Heard, Simeon Tibbetts in both Army and Navy; Simeon Moulton who fought under Gen. Gates, and was taken prisoner; David Moulton and Josiah Hobbs.

WAR OF 1812.

Under the call made for soldiers to defend the coast of Maine, five men were drafted from each company of the regiment of militia in the northern part of York county, and Capt. Ayer, the senior captain of the regiment, marched with them to Kittery.

This town was at that time divided into the eastern and western military districts, and had a company in each. Stephen Piper, Pelatiah Piper, John Drew, Robert Drew, and George McLellan were selected from the eastern company; John Heard and four others from the western company. John Hobbs and John Drew joined them afterwards as musicians. Geo. McLellan died in the service.

NEWFIELD IN THE REBELLION.

It was but natural that a town like Newfield, whose citizens were descendants of men who helped to win the independence of our country, should keep alive the old-time patriotism in which she was founded, and in which her sons were nurtured, and when troops were called to defend the Union should give her bravest and noblest sons to the service of our country. The conduct of these men in camp and on the battlefield was an honor to the noble men whose sons they were, and reflects the greatest credit on their native town.

CHURCH ACCOUNT.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—WEST NEWFIELD.

The first settled minister in Newfield, Rev. John Adams, of Durham, N. H., was engaged by the proprietors in 1778, and received of them a grant of 400 acres of land. He began his labors immediately, and in the spring of 1781 moved his family into the town. He did not organize a church but preached constantly until his death, which occurred June 4, 1792.

The first meeting house was built by David Staples, in 1798.

Rev. John Stoddard, the next pastor, came in 1800, and received an invitation to settle but was not ordained. He formed a society of seven members, July 1, 1801. These were Wm. Symmes and wife, Stephen Moulton and wife, Simon Moulton and wife, and the pastor himself. Wm. Symmes was made deacon.

Mr. John Dame was ordained in Feb., 1803, and remained until January, 1804, when he was dismissed.

There was no settled pastor, following Mr. Dame's dismissal, until April, 1825, when the Rev. Henry T. Kelly became pastor of both Newfield and Parsonsfield charges. Rev. Chas. S. Adams was ordained Nov. 11, 1828, and remained until December, 1831; Rev. David P. Smith was installed July 10, 1832, resigned Aug. 29, 1839; Rev. S. B. Gilbert, installed Jan. 3, 1840, resigned Oct. 2, 1842; Rev. Elias Chapman, ordained Nov. 25, 1845, dismissed Jan. 29, 1849; Rev. Edmund Burt was pastor from Sept. 1849, to March, 1853. During his ministry the meeting house and parsonage were removed to West Newfield Village. Rev. Wm. Pierce was supplying pastor from 1853 to May, 1856; Rev. Jones Fisk, 1858-1862; Rev. Geo. S. Kemp, 1863-1877; Rev. David L. Jones, 1878; Rev. Jonathan Edwards, May, 1879-81; Rev. Amos Redlon, 1883-4; Rev. E. P. Tenney, 1889; Rev. C. H. Gates, 1890-2; Rev. Samuel Thompson, 1894; Rev. J. G. W. Herald, 1895-8; Rev. G. H. Batcheldor, 1899-1903; Rev. H. A. Lincoln, 1905; Rev. W. G. Wade, 1906.

FREE BAPTIST CHURCH.

A Free Will Baptist Church was formed in West Newfield prior to 1803, but not regularly organized under the State law until April 5, 1817.

Rev. John Buzzell preached in 1803, and Nathaniel Jordan, Tristram Hurd and James Marsten were members. Rev. Samuel Burbank, a native of this town, was the first settled minister. The meeting house was sold to the town for a town house in 1876.

A second Society was organized at West Newfield, Oct. 25, 1851, with 22 members, under the ministry of Rev. Benj. S. Manson of Limington, who was followed by Rev. Aaron Ayer, Oct. 15, 1851, and afterwards by Revs. James Marston, Walter Clark, Plummer Chesley, — Townsend, Levi Brackett, I. B. Merrill, A. E. Boynton, 1876-78, C. B. Peckham, 1879; O. O. Hasty, 1882.

The meeting house was built in 1872, and dedicated December 6th of that year.

BAPTIST CHURCH.

A Baptist Society of fifteen members was formed in 1806. For many years the members held meetings in dwellings and barns at the east and west side of the town alternately. The first settled minister was Rev. Wm. Goodwin. He was ordained at West Newfield, in 1810, remained six years, and afterwards became a Free Will Baptist, and removed to Milton, N. H. Rev. Shubael Tripp, from Hebron, succeeded Mr. Goodwin. He remained four or five years.

In 1833 the Society united with the Congregationalists and Free Will Baptists, and built the meeting house at Newfield Village. Rev. Mr. Roberts was the minister at that time. At one time the Society numbered sixty members.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCHES.

The first Methodist preacher in this town was the Rev. Eben Trickey, of Rochester, N. H., who organized a church in the southwest part of the town, in 1825. Rev. Isaac Moore was the first regular minister sent by the Conference.

The house of worship was built by John M. Davis and Timothy Ross, in 1834, at a cost of $900, and dedicated by Rev. Mr. Butler. He was stationed here and was followed by Rev. Henry Linscott, Jesse Stone, Benj. Foster, James Rice, C. C. Covell, Sargent Gray, Francis Ayer, J. E. Rudden, and A. Hatch.

In 1831 Rev. Thomas Green, of Springvale, N. H., began preaching in Newfield, and the next year was assisted by Rev. David Copeland in forming a class of six members. This was separated from the Shapleigh Circuit and placed in charge of Rev. Mr. Copeland in 1838. The meeting house was built in 1836, and enlarged in 1855, at total cost of $1,000. This building was abandoned for a larger one erected at Newfield Village in 1871, and dedicated in 1872.

The pastors of the West Newfield Church since 1880 are as follows: Alvra Hatch to 1882; A. Hamilton, 1882; H. B. Wardwell, 1883-4; S. D. Brown, 1885; W. Waterhouse, 1886; A. W. Waterhouse, 1887-1892.

Pastors of the church at Newfield Village have been: Revs. G. R. Wilkins, 1880, B. Freeman, 1882; D. Waterhouse, 1883; A. W. Waterhouse, 1884-5; W. F. Marshall, 1886-7; O. H. Stevens, 1888-9; J. Moulton, 1890-2; Robert Lawton, 1893-5; F. R. Welch, 1896-7; W. A. Nottage, 1898-1900; Wm. Bragg, 1901-2; A. E. Roberts, 1903-4.

PROFESSIONAL MEN.

LAWYERS.

Hon. Nathan Clifford, a native of Grafton Co., N. H., came to Newfield after having been admitted to the bar in 1827. He was appointed attorney general of the state in 1834, and held the office for four years. He was a representative in Congress from 1839 to 1843, and was subsequently attorney general of the United States, and commissioner to Mexico under President Polk. When peace was declared at the close of the war with Mexico, he was appointed minister to that republic. In 1858, he was appointed by President Buchanan to the office of associate justice of the Supreme Court of the United States.

Charles W. Tuttle of Boston, was born in this town, as were Caleb R. Ayer and Ira T. Drew prominent lawyers in York County.

Henry C. Hixon, Esq., a graduate of the Michagan Law School, located at Newfield Village in 1878, and practiced until about 1887. He was the last lawyer to practice in this town.

PHYSICIANS.

Rev. Dr. John Adams was a physician as well as a minister, and practiced medicine from 1780 until his death, which occurred June 4, 1792.

Dr. James Ayer, a native of Boston, commenced practice in Newfield in 1805. He died Jan. 23, 1834.

Dr. M. L. Marston settled at West Newfield in 1824, and practiced medicine until his death four years later.

Stephen Adams, M. D., was born in Limerick in 1804, graduated at Brunswick in 1829, and commenced practice at once in West Newfield, where he remained very many years.

Drs. Dudley Fulsom and Moses L. Weston practiced here in 1828, and Levi J. Ham in 1869.

Doctors Blaisdell, Roberts, Winn, Leighton and S. P. Clark also practiced medicine here.

Dr. I. M. Trafton came about 1880, and remained until about 1893.

Dr. J. W. Dearborn came in 1886, and practiced until 1894. Dr. Baker came in 1893, and was here about five years. Dr. E. B. Chellis was here in 1898. Dr. E. C. Jenigor began the practice of medicine here about 1893.

Newfield has had two dentists for many years, E. G. Reynolds and F. W. Smith. The latter is still in practice.

History of Shapleigh.

GENERAL DESCRIPTION.

Shapleigh contained originally 32,150 acres, but was afterwards reduced about one-half by the erection of the town of Acton from its western half, and the annexation of a part of the north end by Newfield. It is bounded on the north by Newfield, on the east by Waterborough and Alfred, on the south by Sanford, and on the west by Acton.

Mousam Pond, nearly five miles in length on its western border, is the largest body of water wholly within the county. Square Pond, the next in size, lies half a mile to the northwest, and partly within the town of Acton. These ponds form the head waters of the Mousam River, which flows southwest through Sanford and Kennebunk, and empties into the ocean. Granny Kent, Sly Beaver and two lesser ponds in the north are surrounded by plains, constituting nearly one-third of the town. Bump-Box Brook and the two branches of Heath Brook are the main water courses.

The southern and central parts are diversified by low marshes, arable swells or light ridges and precipitous hills. The soil upon the plains is poor, but adapted to grass, while the higher lands produce fair crops of corn, wheat and rye, richer grasses and abundant crops of apples and other hardy fruits. Cider has been a leading product for many years. Since 1870, the foreign demand for fruit has made apples a leading product.

The soil abounds in iron from the disintegrating rock. Coarse granite and quartz are abundant, and many indications of mineral deposits are found. Some specimens of galena and silver ores were obtained from rock blasted in sinking a well at Emery's Mills in the southwest corner in 1879.

EARLY PROPRIETARY.

The lands included in the present towns of Acton and Shapleigh were at first supposed to be a part of the Ossipee purchase of Francis Small. The Ossipee lands lay between the Great and Little Ossipee Rivers, and were bought of the Sagamore of Nechewannock, Capt. Sunday, in 1668.

Maj. Nicholas Shapleigh of Kittery, purchased an interest from Mr. Small, but the deed being lost and not recorded, no attempt was made to occupy these lands until the discovery of the old deed in 1770, by the descendants of Mr. Small, when the heirs of the two proprietors at once had it placed upon record and proceeded to establish their claims.

Under the direction of Joshua Hubbard and Dependent Shapleigh, committee, the lands were run out in tracts by James Warren, surveyor. A partition was effected Aug. 5, 1771, and the Shapleigh heirs were assigned Parsonsfield, half of Limerick, and a body of land lying south of the Little Ossipee River, to which they gave the name of Hubbardstown Plantation in honor of Joshua Hubbard. The title to this land was sustained only by a liberal interpretation of the deed which called for more than was included within the boundaries described. The previous grantees, heirs of Mason and Gorges, contested their title, and the case was brought before the committee on Eastern Lands, who after carefully considering the matter, reported a bill confirming their claims to the territory "on condition they reserve the lots already appropriated for public use, and pay four hundred pounds into the State treasury."

The bill was passed Oct. 30, 1782, and signed by Governor John Hancock. The proprietors afterwards purchased from the heirs of Maj. Wm. Phillips, a piece containing some six or eight hundred acres in the northeast corner—since set off to Newfield—for £60. In 1774 and 1776, most of the town was surveyed and laid out in lots by Joseph Warren, assisted by Gilbert Warren and Joseph Hasty, chainmen, after which they were drawn for by the proprietors. Lands proving to be of inferior quality were made up to the person drawing by additional land from the unappropriated lots.

Strips three rods wide running north and south were left between ranges for roads. The ranges commence at the southwest corner of Acton and number east. The lots commence numbering at the south.

Previous to the decision of the title in 1782, about forty persons had settled in the eastern part of the town and made improvements. They claimed no title to their lands, but were voted by the proprietors the opening each had cleared, and an equal number of acres of wild land adjoining with the privilege of buying the remaining portions of the lots upon which they were located at $2 an acre. They were required to sign a relinquishment of all other lands in the plantation.

EARLY SETTLEMENT

In 1772, Simon Emery of Berwick built a dam across the Mousam River at the outlet of the lower pond, and erected a saw mill. Two hundred acres of land were laid out for him in September. His was the first building in town of which any record is given.

Joseph Jellison and his son Joseph moved in early in the spring of 1773, and began the first clearing below the mill. Building a cabin of logs, they returned to Doughty's Falls for their household goods, and the other members of the family who came later.

James Davis and William Stanley came from Kittery with their families in the spring of 1774, and settled on Stanley Ridge. William Stanley, Jr., the first white child born in this town, was born here previous to 1782.

Geo. Ham came in 1775, bringing with him several workmen to assist in clearing land. One of these, a Mr. Hammond, was killed by a falling tree. This was the first death in the town.

John Patch and Jas. Sayward, neighbors of Mr. Ham in Kittery, followed him soon after his arrival and settled near.

Capt. Philip Hubbard, one of the proprietors, was among the earliest settlers.

A meeting of the proprietors was held in 1778, at which a census of inhabitants was reported, and 150 acres of land set aside for the support of schools. Simon Emery was voted the lot upon which he had built his mill. Dominicus and Ichabod Goodwin, who had bought out the Jellisons, received a large tract and one-half the Emery mill-privilege, on the payment of £60.

Capt. Joshua Trafton, and Samuel Trafton, who had lost an arm in the Revolutionary War, were each granted 100 acres in Range 1; Nathaniel Kent, a blind man, was awarded four times as much as he had cleared on the piece he had taken up near the Little Ossipee. Joseph Jellison received 300 acres, and his son, Joseph Jellison, Jr., received 200 acres of land for having been the first settlers in town.

In 1781, 100 acres each were granted to Gilbert Warren, Joseph Hasty, and Darling Huntress, upon which they settled soon after.

In accordance with the vote of the proprietors, the following persons, who had settled in the town previous to 1782, were granted lands:

On Range No 1—John Giles, 30 acres; John Davis, 37 acres; Joseph Giles, Jr., 50 acres; Daniel Giles, 90 acres; Joseph Moody, 24 acres; Nathaniel Thing, 35 acres; Ebenezer

Ham, 30 acres; Wm. Thompson, 40 acres; Benj. Webber, 8 acres.

Range No. 2—Samuel Low, 30 acres; Brazilai Low, 16 acres; Wm. Stone, 31 acres; Stephen Pillsbury, 54 acres; Benj. Crockett, 30 acres; Jas. Davis, 20 acres; Jotham Trafton, 12 acres; Deacon Jonathan Ross, 16 acres; Benj. Goodwin, 40 acres; Deacon Thos. Shackley, 40 acres; Chas. Emery, 40 acres.

Range No. 3—Jas. Davis, Jr., 12 acres; David Tracy, 16 acres; Richard Tiney, 12 acres; Jos. Tiney, 30 acres; Benj. Abbott, 20 acres; Moses Abbott, 20 acres; Gilbert Warren, Jr., 6 acres; Edmund Neal, 40 acres; Jas. Sayward, 25 acres; Samuel Patch, 10 acres; Jos. Welch, 16 acres; John Patch, 15 acres; Daniel Wilson, 40 acres; Geo. Ham, 144 acres; Nathaniel Kent, a blind man, 39 acres; Jos. Jones, 10 acres; Jethro Smith, 6 acres; Abigal Kent, 6 acres; David Maxwell, Jr., 14 acres.

Wm. Stanley, one of the first settlers, Simon Richards, and Saul Emery, Jr., refused to sign the relinquishment, and received no land.

The census of 1778 gives the following names, which in most cases differ from those given above, as receiving land grants four years after: Moses Abbott, Wm. Bean, John Carr, Benj. Connor, Daniel Cook, Jonathan Copp, John Connor, Benj. Drew, Philip Durgin, Jeremiah Emery, Paul Farnham, Ralph Farnham, John Golman, Joseph Goodwin, Capt. Zebulon Gilman, Jonathan Gilman, Jeremiah Gilman, Bartholomew Gould, Thos. Horn, John Hussey, Geo. Ham, Jonathan Heard, Reuben Hussey, Capt. Philip Hubbard, David Jewett, Elisha James, Benj. King, Moses Leverett, John Legrow, Jonathan Moody, Ham Nason, John Patch, Joseph Renick, John Rowe, John Stacy, Clement Steele, Eleazer Tibbetts, Samuel Willey, Daniel Veasy, John York, John York, Jr.

INCORPORATION.

The town of Shapleigh was incorporated March 5, 1785, and named in honor of its original proprietor, Maj. Nicholas Shapleigh. Previously it had been known by the name of Hubbard's Town, having taken that name from Joshua Hubbard, one of Maj. Shapleigh's heirs, and a leading proprietor.

Shapleigh was the thirty-fifth town incorporatad in the district of Maine. There were more than 100 ratable polls in the town at that date.

The first election of town officers was held in the West Parish (now Acton), May 3, 1785, under a warrant issued to Benjamin Chadbourne, Esq. John Cook was Moderator of the meeting, Joshua Brackett was elected Town Clerk; John Cook, Simon Ricker and Joshua Brackett, Selectmen; Wm. Rodgers, Treasurer. The town, owing to a range of ponds and barren plains, extending through its centre, was divided into the eastern and western parishes. The town house was first used in 1847.

The West Parish was incorporated as a separate town under the name of Acton, March 6, 1830. In June, 1844, some 600 or 800 acres joining the Little Ossipee River, and including Picket Mountain and Poverty Pond, were annexed to the town of Newfield. That part of the town west of the Mousam River was returned from Acton in 1831.

CHURCHES.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.

Baptist meetings were held in town long before any church was organized here or any meeting house built. Elder Tozier Lord and Abraham Pugsley were the pioneers in this work. The Rev. Nehemiah Davis was the first Baptist preacher.

A little society of those embracing Baptist sentiments was formed in the East Parish in 1781, and about 1787, Mr. Davis was ordained in Edmund Coffin's dwelling house near Shapleigh's Corner. He became settled pastor in 1796, and remained with the society until his removal to Ohio in 1798.

A meeting house was erected at the Corner in 1802, at an expense of $1500, and a church was organized Oct. 6, 1803, containing 22 members. From this time till 1818, the church was supplied by neighboring ministers, principally by Elder Z. Delano of Lebanon. In September, Deacon John Chadbourne, one of the members of the church was ordained, and remained as pastor until 1822. His successor, Rev. Chas. Blanchard was ordained in April, 1823. During his ministry the church was increased. His pastorate came to an end in 1828, and his place was taken by the Rev. P. L. Fogg, who was pastor from 1829 to 1832.

The Rev. Jos. Gilpatrick came in December, 1834, and remained until September, 1841, the membership increasing to 110. From 1843 to 1848, Rev. John Hubbard was pastor. During his ministry the meeting house was renovated and remodelled. A new one was built in 1847. Rev. Noah Hooper came next and remained two years.

In 1850, Rev. L. S. Tripp commenced preaching to the members of the church and continued his labors until 1853. Succeeding pastors have been: Wm. H. Copeland, 1856-63; J. P. Chapin, who remained three and a half years; N. C. Everett, W. H. Copeland, a second time, 1868-October '71; A. E. Spring, 1872; W. H. Copeland, 1874; Gideon S. Smith, 1877-82; C. P. Bennett, 1883; C. P. Bennett, 1885-7; E. H. Doane, 1888-9; E. A. Cranston, 1890-1; G. Chapman, 1893-7; A. S. Buzzell, 1898-9; E. L. Krumreig, 1900-3; W. C. Wescott, 1904.

SECOND BAPTIST CHURCH—EMERY'S MILLS.

This church was organized at Emery's Mills in 1841, and public worship was established in a hall. Among the first members were John Ricker, Nathan Churchill, John K. Chase and Harriet Wedgewood.

After the Methodist ceased to occupy their house in 1844, it was purchased by this society. Among the ministers have been Geo. Heard, J. M. Wedgewood, J. K. Chase, T. Jameson and Wm. H. Copeland. Elder G. Heard supplied in 1854. Elder Wm. H. Copeland closed his labors here in 1871, in which year Rev. John Libby became pastor. E. P. Noyes became pastor in 1872; J. W. Porter preached from 1871 to 1876. Rev. J. S. Smith became pastor in 1876.

Pastors since 1880 have been Revs. G. S. Smith, 1880-1; C. P. Bennett, 1883 and 1885-7; E. H. Doane, 1888-9; G. S. Chase, 1890-4; C. C. Spear, 1895-6; Wm. Moore, 1898; L. W. Muttart, 1899-1900.

FREE BAPTIST CHURCH—ROSS CORNER.

The Free Will Baptist church in Shapleigh, had its origin in 1818, but a meeting house was not built until 1834. The following have been pastors of the church: Elder S. W. Perkins, who supplied in 1854; S. Poindexter, 1871-3; Emery H. Butts, 1874; Rev. Mr. Boynton, 1876; Rev. John Lord, 1877-9; Rev. James Nason, 1885; Rev. E. C. Harmon, 1887-9; Rev. W. H. Trafton, 1890; Rev. B. S. Fifield, 1891-2; Rev. J. M. Page, 1893-4, Rev. W. A. W. Hardy, 1896; Rev. E. N. C. Barnes, 1897.

FREE BAPTIST CHURCH—NORTH SHAPLEIGH.

The North Shapleigh meeting house was built in 1866, and dedicated by the Rev. F. W. Towns. Meetings have been held at this church by Revs. H. P. Mansur, A. P. Sanborn, Jonathan Fairbanks and Samuel Lord. During the labors of the Rev. W. S. Packard, a church was organized March 22, 1876. The Rev. O. S. Hasty succeeded Mr. Packard in 1879, and remained until sometime in 1882.

Succeeding pastors have been: Revs. A. E. Boynton, 1885; E. C. Harmon, 1887-9; E. Cook, 1890; B. S. Fifield, 1891-2; J. M. Page 1893-4; W. A. W. Hardy, 1896; E. N. C. Barnes, 1897; E. T. Gilman, 1899.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

Some time previous to 1828, itinerant Methodist preachers held meetings in Shapleigh, and some of the citizens united with this denomination. In this year a meeting house was built at Emery's Mills, and regular worship held.

In 1844, the membership had become so reduced, through removals, that the meetings ceased, and the meeting house was sold. A second Society was formed at North Shapleigh, as a part of the Newfield charge.

Methodist preachers in this town since 1880 have been: Revs. Alvra Hatch, 1881; H. B. Wardwell, 1883; S. D.

Brown, 1884-5; A. W. Waterhouse, 1886-9; J. Moulton, 1891-2; Robert Lawton, 1893-5; F. R. Welch, 1898; Wm. Bragg, 1901-2; A. E. Roberts, 1903-4.

SCHOOLS

At a meeting of the proprietors of Shapleigh, in 1778, it was voted that 150 acres of land be reserved for the support of common schools in the town. This property was afterward sold for $1,034.18, and forms the local school fund, the income of which is yearly expended in support of common schools. At the same meeting, in 1778, 300 acres were reserved for the benefit of Harvard College. The first school committee was Whitney Stevens, Reuben Buck and Wm. Trafton.

The first recorded action taken for schools by the town was in 1790, when it was voted to raise £40 for the use of schools. In 1791, the town was divided into two districts, and £50 raised. After that £60 were raised annually, on an average, up to 1802. Then, for about twelve years, $600 annually. From 1822 to the division of the town, in 1830, about $1,000 were raised and expended annually. New districts were constituted from time to time to meet the wants of the people, until in 1830 there were 21. The town was then reorganized with 11 districts, which number was continued for many years.

PROFESSIONAL MEN.

LAWYERS.

The Hon. J. P. Royers, a distinguished lawyer and public officer of the State, and afterwards a resident of Boston, was born in this town.

Messrs. I. S. Kimball, Wm. A. Kimball, Saul Kimball, Asa Low, Samuel Thing and Chas. Lindsey, were residents of Shapleigh, and all natives except I. S. Kimball and Chas. Lindsey.

John A. Burleigh practiced law at Emery's Mills in 1825; Hon. John T. Paine, 1825-36; Jonathan Clark, 1815-18.

PHYSICIANS.

The first resident physician in Shapleigh was Dr. Charles Powers of Greenwich, Mass., who practised here from 1791-1825.

Dr. Benj. Mace commenced practice at Emery's Mills in 1803 or 1804, but remained only two or three years. Dr. Whiting Stevens succeeded him in 1807, and pursued his practice half a century or more.

Dr. L. O. Wood settled at Haley Corner in 1820, and continued his practice until his death, in 1827. Dr. Reuben Buck came in 1819. Dr. Wm. Lewis commenced practice at the same place in 1825.

Physicians since 1880 have been as follows: H. Webber, 1880-3; L. W. Leighton, 1880-94; F. A. Bragdon, 1884-91; E. L. Thompson, 1891-3; Wm. Smith, 1894-9; S. B. Marshall, 1900; A. S. Davis, 1902-3.

GENERAL DESCRIPTION

The town of acton, formerly a part of the plantation of Hubbardstown and the town of Shapleigh, is bounded on the north by Newfield, on the east by Shapleigh, on the south by Lebanon, and on the west by the towns of Wakefield and Milton, N. H. The surface is diversified by hills, valleys, plains and rolling areas. The greatest altitude occurs in the centre and northwest, where a deep circular valley has received an appropriate title, "The Hopper," so named from its resemblance to the hopper in the grinding apparatus of a grist mill.

A portion of the town, extending to Mousam River, was re-annexed to Shapleigh in 1831. The town was not at right angles with the west boundary line of the State because it was run out in accordance with the old survey from the coast. This was remedied by purchasing a gore on the northwest from Bridget Phillips and dividing the south gore with Lebanon.

Acton is well watered, having within or upon its borders more fresh water than any other town in the county. Her ponds in order of size are, Northwest, partly in New Hampshire, extending three miles across the north end of the town. Mousam, or Long, extending three miles along her eastern line. Square, partly in Shapleigh, and between Northeast and Long, flowing into Mousam. Wilson's, or Carvin's, a third of a mile south of Northeast, 640 acres in area. Horner's, half a mile to the east, emptying into the Salmon Falls river. Balch pond, forming two miles of the north boundary line.

Near the plains and ponds is found a rather poor soil, but the uplands furnish a rough, stony, but productive soil, which is improved by her industrious farmers, producing an abundance of hay, grain, apples and grapes.

LAND TITLES

The lands included within the boundaries of this town were awarded to the heirs of Nicholas Shapleigh, in 1771, as portion of their interest in the Ossipee tract, deeded by Capt. Sunday, Indian Sagamore, to Francis Small, the trader at Kittery in 1668. Mr. Small subsequently sold an interest in the Ossipee tract to Maj. Shapleigh. The lands included between the two Ossipee rivers not containing the number of square miles deeded by the Sagamore, the original town of Shapleigh was included in the survey by James Warren, surveyor, under direction of J. Hubbard and Dependent Shapleigh, proprietors.

A contest over the lands followed, Hon. James Sullivan, afterwards Governor of Massachusetts, undertook the defense for one half the plantation of Limerick. Before the Committee on Eastern lands, he got a decision favorable to his side in the shape of a bill on Oct. 30, 1782.

The act required that the proprietors pay the common-wealth 400 pounds, and to make the usual reservations demanded by the State in making grants. A compromise was made by the proprietors with the people who had settled formerly on the land, by obtaining from them a relinquishment of all title, in return for which they granted to each twice as much land as he had cleared, and agreed to sell to each the balance of his lot at $2 per acre. Surveyor Warren lotted the greater part of the town between the years 1774 and 1776, and a part of the land was drawn by the proprietors. Fifty-two 300 acre lots were included in the first drawing.

SETTLEMENT.

Benjamin Kimens, Clement Steele and John York, in the fall of 1776, made at Acton Corner the first settlement in this town. They were closely followed by Capt. Wm. Rogers, a proprietor of note, who built a bridge across the narrows of Mousam Pond, and a house, not far from the same time. The year 1776 marks the date of the bridge but it is not known just when he removed to the town.

The first road was opened by John B. Hanson of Dover, N. H., under direction of the proprietors, in 1776, and extended from Lebanon line, east of Goding Brook, near the Free Will Baptist Church, and passing north, past the houses of Kimens, Steele and York, to the Ossipee River. Many settlements followed, the greater part of them on poor land, which fact soon discouraged the pioneers to such an extent that their settlement was discontinued. Joshua Brackett was one of the permanent ones, coming here in 1778, and settling at South Acton Corner. John Hussey settled half a mile southwest of this point. Gersham Ricker settled in 1779, not far from the Corner.

In 1779, on the Salmon Falls River, near Wakefield, Joseph Parsons built a grist mill, the first in town. For this service and others, he was granted 200 acres in the third Range of Rights. In February of that year Paul Farnham, a soldier of the American Revolution, with his sons, Dummer, Ralph and Paul, came from Lebanon, and settled in the northwest part of the town where Paul, Jr., afterwards lived. In the course of the next month, John Woodman from Farmington, N. H., settled north of the Farnhams.

Also in 1779, Daniel Hurd (or Heard), settled on a hill a mile south of South Acton, where a descendant, M. C. Hurd, was for years the postmaster.

Benjamin Drew settled near the Lebanon line. Jonathan Young and Joseph and Samuel Sanborn, from Brinkwood, N. H., were here at an early date. Lands were sold at $2 per acre. The settlers depended for food upon corn, fish, game and milk, of which there was almost always a goodly quantity. Prior to the erection of Emery's Mill, a rude hand mill at Mr. Woodman's ground the corn for the people of the community.

The year 1791 marks a time of great interest of the question of whether there should be two meeting houses erected, and much interest was shown in the election of deacons and other church officers, causing great activity and some dissention in the little community. The office of collector and constable was then one of high respectability and much sought after. In 1797 it was secured by Dr. C. Powers, being bid off at the rate of $1.00 in the east parish and fifty cents in the west parish. By 1802 the competition had so increased that Stephen Marsh paid $25 for the office. In 1828 Luther Goding paid $40 for this privilege of gathering the tithes and its attendant honors. From that time on the town paid a small sum for the service.

Joshua, John, Peter, Joseph and Jonathan Grant settled near each other in the north of the town. Another Grant family, of which Elisha P. Grant was the head, came into town and settled in the south part prior to 1800.

It is of interest in view of the great discussion in our day over the question of liquor selling that in this town in 1820 there were granted about 20 licenses for the sale of strong drink. Efforts were made to prevent its effect upon town election by passing a law that no liquor should be sold on the day of election, under penalty of revocation of the license, but this measure was so badly evaded as to result in repeal.

The town farm in this town was bought with money received from the National Government by the distribution of 1837. The decision to expend the sum in this manner was reached only after much discussion. The Aaron Hubbard place was finally bought for $1800.

INCORPORATION.

In March, 1825, a proposition to divide the town was defeated by a vote of 170 to 126. The following September the question again arose, resulting in the passage of a resolve prohibiting action upon the matter for the next five years. To strengthen the bond of unity between the two factions, an appropriation of $5,000 was made for the betterment of roads, but the question of the enactment of the various provisions of this appropriation rendered its being carried out impossible. So in 1828 the question of division of the town once more arose. The contest which followed was intensely exciting, and resulted in a vote favorable to division, 164 to 111. A committee consisting of Dr. R. Buck, John Bodwell, Elisha Bodwell, Dr. Wm. Lewis and J. C. Libby was appointed to petition the legislature to make the division on as nearly the old parish division as possible.

The Act of Incorporation was passed March 6, 1830, and gave the new town of Acton the most from the total number of 2,950 population.

The name of the town of Acton derived from the locality of one of the most important contests of the Revolutionary War, and was given in honor of the citizens of the town who had participated in that war, of whom Ralph Farnham was held in high esteem by his fellow-townsmen.

The town meetings had been held in Acton till 1801 when the honor was shared with the Eastern parish till the division of the town. The first town election in Acton was held at the Baptist meeting house on March 22, 1830. The town house was erected in 1842 and until that date, after 1830, the meetings were held alternately in the Baptist and Congregational houses. By the terms of the act of incorporation all lands within the bounds of Acton became the property of the town. All back taxes were collected by the old town, and all appropriations were divided equally. The town of Shapleigh retained the records, but any citizen of Acton should have at all times free access to examine and make copies and extracts therefrom, free of expense.

CHURCH HISTORY.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH—SHAPLEIGH AND ACTON.

In 1778, the proprietors voted to reserve 300 acres on the east side of the Pond for the use of the Congregational ministry, the avails of which should be used for the Congregational minister settled in that parish. Also a hundred acre lot to be reserved for the first Congregational minister settled in the parish. Rev. Alpheus Spring of Kittery, preached to the first settlers as early as 1774.

A proprietary meeting house was built on the parsonage lot, and Aug. 18, 1794, a meeting of the town was held to ratify their action. The east side was released from any share in its cost, and it became the property of the West Parish. Rev. Joseph Brown became settled pastor in January, 1796. Elder Wm. Godin was settled in the Western Parish in 1806, and Elder John Chadbourne in the Eastern Parish in 1818.

In 1826, a small church was organized with Rev. Henry A. Merrill, settled pastor. A house for worship was commenced at the Corner and some additions to the church received. Mr. Merrill received the 100 acre lot the proprietors had reserved for the first minister of this denomination. As the parsonage land yielded nothing, his support was insufficient and he left them in 1824.

An act passed the Legislature the same year, authorizing the society to sell the parsonage lot, and a board of trustees was incorporated to hold the proceeds as a fund. This was done, and $1650 received and invested, the income of which was expended in temporary supplies to neighboring pastors.

From 1831 to 1836, the Rev. Clark Cornish supplied the church statedly half the time. Succeeding supplies were Revs. J. Caruthers, J. Kimball, Clement Parker and others for short periods.

Mr. Amasa Loring, from the Bangor Theological Seminary, commenced preaching here in the autumn of 1841. He was received with favor, and June 15, 1842, was ordained over this church. The old meeting house which had never been furnished was taken down in 1872-73, and a neat one erected on a better location. A meeting house was erected at Acton Corner in 1827.

Mr. Loring closed his labors in December, 1848, but continued to supply until 1850, when he was succeeded by Rev. Wm. Peirce. Revs. James Fiske and F. P. Smith came next and were followed by Rev. Wm. S. Thompson, who began to supply here Jan. 1, 1869, and continued until about 1886. Revs. William Merrill, 1887-9; W. G. Wade, 1890; W. Stuart, 1892; J. B. Stuart, 1893; John A. Lawrence, 1894-6; Lorenzo Muttart, 1898-1900; C. N. Sinnett, 1903; Rev. H. S. Savory, 1904; and Rev. H. G. Bassler have been pastors of the church.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

This church was organized in 1826, by Rev. William McKay. A meeting house was erected at Acton Corner in 1840. Pastors, Rev. Henry Linscott, 1837; Richard H. Ford, 1838; B. F. Foster, Jesse Stone, James Rice, James Harrington, A. P. Sanborn, H. B. Wardwell, 1882-3; S. D. Brown, 1884-5; A. W. Whitehouse, 1888; Robert Lawton, 1893-7; W. A. Nottage, 1898-1900; Wm. Bragg, 1901-4.

BAPTIST CHURCH.

A Baptist church was formed by Rev. Nehemiah Davis in 1781. He became the first minister, and in 1802, dedicated the first house of worship near the old Congregationist house erected in 1796. This house cost $1500. The church was re-organized by Rev. Wm. Goding at a meeting held at the house of Maj. Samuel Stacy, Jan. 3, 1828, and became the Baptist church of Shapleigh and Milton.

The meeting house at South Acton was built in 1841, and the old one afterwards was torn down. The pastors have been: Willard Glover, 1828; Chas. Emerson, 1828-34; James Jameson, N. G. Littlefield, 1845-50; W. T. Sargent, 1850-6; Wm. Harlin, 1856-63; G. D. Ballentine, 1864; Samson Powers, 1867; E. P. Noyes, 1871-8; Henry A. Stetson, Nov. 1878-80; N. Whittemore, 1882-6 or 7; E. A. Cranston, 1891; W. Chapman, 1893-6; J. S. Buzzell, 1898; E. L. Krumreig, 1900-02; W. S. Wescott, 1904.

FREE BAPTIST CHURCH.

In 1781, the settlement was visited by Elder Tozier Lord, of Berwick, who had left the Baptists and united with Elder Benjamin Randall at the founding of the Free Will Baptist Church. Meetings were held in an unfinished building. A revival resulted in the forming of a society, which declined on the removal of the pastor a few years later.

FIRST FREE BAPTIST CHURCH.

The First Free Baptist Church was reorganized by Rev. Gershom Lord, in 1802, and consisted of 8 members. Samuel Runnells and Bart. Miller were first deacons, and Elder Lord was clerk. Rev. Gershom Lord was the first preacher, and was succeeded by Humphrey Goodwin, who was ordained in 1807, and continued to preach until his removal to Hollis, in 1804. Elder David Blaisdell supplied from 1815 to 1830.

A house of worship was built in 1818, in the west part of the town, near Milton Mills, and replaced by a new one on the same ground, in 1840.

Theodore Stevens became pastor in 1834, left in 1836, returned in 1839, and was succeeded, in 1843, by Elder J. Fullerton; by Horace Stanton, in 1847; and subsequently by Z. Jordan, Wm. Hurlin, Seth Perkins, Aaron Ayer, Dexter Waterman, James Potter; Rev. Mr. McLain, in 1872; Hosea Quimby, 1875; and at Mr. Quimby's death, in October, 1878, by Rev. B. F. Sherwood, who remained until about 1880, when Rev. H. P. Mansur came. He remained until about 1885. The following have been pastors since that time: Revs. G. A. Anderson, 1887; C. E. Hurd, 1888-93; E. W. Fernald, 1894-7; R. W. Churchill, 1898.

SECOND FREE BAPTIST CHURCH.

The Second Free Will Baptist Church was organized, a house of worship built by the Union Society of Acton in the south part of the town, and a meeting house erected in 1840, under the labors of Rev. John Brooks. Joseph Hilton and Hubbard Stevens were the first deacons.

PROFESSIONAL MEN.

LAWYERS.

Calvin R. Hubbard, son of Maj. C. Hubbard, practiced law in Springvale until his death, in 1837. John Bodwell was another Acton lawyer.

PHYSICIANS.

Among the physicians of this town have been Horace Stacy, J. C. Buck, R. R. Ricker, Horatio Buck, C. P. Hubbard, P. C. Garvin, Dr. W. E. Pillsbury, who practiced here in 1880-1; H. I. Berry, 1881-5; F. W. Verrill, 1886; G. A. Allen, 1891-2.

MILITARY MATTERS.

It is sufficient to say that that portion of old Shapleigh which now comprises Acton, was settled and developed by men of sturdy courage and fortitude and strong loyalty to country. Ralph Farnham, of whom mention has been already made in these lines as one of the first settlers, was born in 1756, and served in the continental army one year. In the fall of 1860 he visited Boston, at the invitation of prominent citizens of Massachusetts, and died soon after his return home, in December, 1860, at the age of 104 years. His memory is highly treasured by his townspeople. Jethro Hurd, whose family lived in the woods of Acton, left the army after the surrender of Cornwallis at Yorktown, and walked home without his pay or a discharge. Moses Hubbard also saw service in the Revolution.

WAR OF 1812.

The War of 1812 was not a popular measure in any of our Maine towns. Acton was opposed to it but met her duty with men and money. $300 was appropriated in 1804, and 64 pounds of powder, 100 pounds of balls, 100 flints, and 3 camp kettles, for each company of 64 men, were bought. Guns and bayonets were purchased by the town for those who could not afford to buy them. A committee of three, Andrew Rogers, Thos. Drew, and Jona. Young, was appointed in 1808, to petition the United States Government against the Embargo act.

The Militia was called out in 1814 for the defense of the coast towns, on the approach of the British fleet, and Ac-ton's force was prompt to respond. Among the soldiers of this War were: Heard Brackett, Samuel Drew, Phineas Wentworth, Jno. Drew, and several others, mentioned under the quota of the town of Shapleigh.

Ebenezer Ricker served in the Florida War.

CIVIL WAR.

It was reserved for the period of the last half of the past century to try the mettle of our towns and states. The opening of the Civil War awoke the echoes of the greatest conflict of modern times, if not of all time, and while the men of the north failed at first to realize its full significance they soon awoke to the reality of the struggle before them and prepared for it with men and money. Acton met her responsibility with her accustomed loyalty and patriotism. Her sons went forth and were found in the places of danger and suffering throughout the contest. Their memory will always be sacred in the hearts of their friends and descendants in this town. We have compiled as nearly a correct list of the enlistments from this town as our opportunities would permit. The names follow:

CIVIL WAR SOLDIERS.

C. H. Avery, Lorenzo Avery, Thos. W. Applebee, Thos. H. Avery, Lorenzo Arey, Jno. Bekker, L. F. Brown, J. L. Buzzell, Rufus Chapman, Albion Chute, John E. Clark, T. H. Drew, Henri Dryer, A. W. # History of Lebanon.

GENERAL DESCRIPTION.

The town of Lebanon is bounded on the west by the Salmon Falls river, the state line between Maine and New Hampshire, on the south by North Berwick and Berwick, on the east by Sanford and on the north by Acton. The present town presents an area of about 40 square miles. It has been augmented by the addition of Bagly's and Chadbourne's grants on the northwest and Baker's on the east. These grants were gores left between the different angles of Lebanon and other towns in their survey, because of the fact that one survey was parallel with the coast and the other with the meridian.

The railway facilities of the town are fairly well adapted to the needs of the town. The Boston & Maine, formerly the Portland & Rochester, runs through the southeasterly part of the town with a station at Eastwood. The Conway and Wolfboro branch of the Boston & Maine runs through the northwesterly portion of the town, and has a station near the Three Ponds village in Milton.

LAND TITLES.

The General Court of Massachusetts, in 1733, passed a resolve to open four townships for settlement, three of which were to be in Massachusetts and one on the eastern side of the Salmon Falls river, at the head of Berwick in York County. The limitation of territory was placed at 6 miles square, each. Sir William Pepperell, John Alding and Richard Milbury were appointed a committee to lay out 60 lots in the most defensible manner for the settlers together with highways. They completed their survey, took the bonds required of settlers, made their return to the General Court together with the plan of the lots and highways as laid out and their doings were accepted in due time. The 60 lots were ready for assignment in October, 1733.

On account of the frequency of Indian Wars the Court required that all new towns be laid out in the most defensible manner possible.

In 1735 the township was confirmed to Jos. Chadbourne, Nathan Lord, Jos. Hartt, Ichabod Goodwin, Edward Arnold, Elisha Plaisted and 54 others, their associates, with the following bounds: Beginning on Berwick Head line, at Lower Stair Falls in Newichawannock river, and running northeast by east, on Berwick line 6 miles and 200 rods; then northwest by north 6 miles and 80 rods; then southwest by west by Massachusetts lands, and lands granted to Jona. Bagly Esq., to Salmon Falls river; then southerly by said river to the place of beginning. All holding land at the present time within these limits hold by virtue of this act and not by any Indian Deed.

The proprietors were required to make actual settlement within two years, to each clear eight acres of land fit for mowing and tillage, and to build each a dwelling house at least 18 feet square and 7 feet posts. They were also required to build a meeting house and settle a learned minister, denominated orthodox or protestant, and to provide for his support. For this purpose and for the support of schools there were reserved three lots,—one for the ministry, one for the first settled minister, and one for the support of schools within the town. A bond of 20 pounds was exacted from each settler.

SETTLEMENT.

Berwick, Kittery, York, Somersworth and Dover furnished the greater part of the proprietors of the new town, but few, if any at all, ever settled within the limits of the town.

The proprietors, under the lead of William Pepperell, commenced their labors by laying out a highway from Berwick Head line, at a point two hundred and thirty-six rods northeast by east from Salmon Falls river and extending northwest by north in the township, a distance of three miles.

Along this highway 63 "home-lots" were laid out varying from 25 to 35 acres, one of which was allotted to each original proprietor, one to the first minister, one to the ministry and one to schools.

The lots were surveyed by Jos. Chadbourne, surveyor, Samuel Mill "Ceny" (?) Ebenezer Moulton, Sr., chainman, who were sworn to their duty by William Pepperell. The plan was accepted by the General Court March 24, 1735, and the lots were drawn by the following persons:

Moses Abbot, B. B. Allen, Edward Arnold, Nathan Blodgett, Jona. Bowers, Ebenezer Blaisdell, Thos. G. Butler, Ch.

Bradbury, Capt. Caleb Blodgett, Wm. Buster, Nath'l Bray, Sam'l Came, Zebedee Chandler, Jos. Chadbourne, Jas. Chadbourne, Richard Cutt, Jr., John Curtis, Jr., Jos. Chandler, Zachariah Emery, Chas. Frost, Jr., Ralph Farnum, Jas. Frost, Jno. Fry, Eleazar Ferguson, Jno. Fay, Elisha Gunnison, Nath. Gubtail, Wm. Gerrish, James Gerrish, Ichabod Goodwin, Wm. Gowen, Jas. Grant, Jos. Hartt, Elisha Hill, Stephen Hardison, Richard Hearl, Jno. Hodgdon, Jos. Jenkins, Thos. Kidder, Samuel Kendall, Richard Lord, Benjamin Libby, John Lewis, Tobias Leighton, John Lord, Nathan Lord, Hiram Lord, the ministry lot, Noah Marble, the minister's lot, E. Moulton, Jere Moulton, Elisha Plaisted, Jos. Peevey, Jas. Parker, Daniel Smith, the school lot, Jno. Stevens, Samuel Sewell, Jere Sprague, Jos. Sayward, Benj. Thompson, Abel Whitney.

Many of the above never made any pretence of completing a settlement upon their lots as drawn above. The settlement was slow and the proprietors were obliged to apply to the General Court for an extension of time. The most reliable information goes to show that there was no real settlement of the town until 1746. The first settlers were these: Farnham, Copp, Door, Hussey, Rines, Stevens, Blaisdell, Tebbetts, Kenney, Wallingford, McCrelis, Perkins, Corson, Burrows, Goodwin, Yeaton, Furbush, Cowell.

These do not in all probability, include all the names, but gives the most accurate list obtainable today.

PROPRIETARY GOVERNMENT AND INCORPORATION.

The first proprietors' meeting was held on Oct. 15, 1735, at the house of Samuel Lord, in pursuance to a warrant issued by Jno. Hill, Esq., of Berwick. Sam'l Came was chosen moderator, and Joseph Hartt clerk. Elisha Plais-ted, Jas. Grant and Richard Lord were elected a committee to order the prudential affairs of the town, assessors, collectors and "agents to prosecute any persons who should make any trespass on the common and undivided lands."

The Committee were ordered at this meeting among other things to clear one acre of the minister's lot, and open the highways. 60 pounds were voted for roads. The town was not named by them till its incorporation in 1767, though the Indian term for the location was "Towweh."

The following are some of the more important dates and events during the proprietary period:

1737—Joseph Hartt became treasurer of the proprietors government.

1738—8 Acres of land cleared on the ministers lot. Survey of rivers made to find best place for saw mill.

1741—Decided to divide all the land from Zera Sprague's to the river, including the west part of the town between hetroad and Salmon Falls River.

1742—Voted to build a meeting house "35 x 42, two stories high, jutting over."

1744—Meeting held to agree on building a sufficient fortification to “defend His Majestie’s Subjects.”

1749—Great fire, supposedly set by Indians, destroyed much timber.

1753—Frame for meeting house raised. Boarded and shingled and furnished inside the following year. Located on the ministry lot.

1755—Minister procured for four Sabbaths.

1765—Rev. Isaac Hasey settled as minister.

INCORPORATION.

This town was nameless till 1767, having been known as “The new township at the head of Berwick, on the east side of Little Falls River.” Its name first occurs in the act of incorporation, which received its passage June 13, 1767, and was signed by the governor four days later. In accordance with its provisions a warrant was issued by Benj. Chadbourne, justice of the peace, to Joseph Farnham, for the meeting to be held at the meeting house September 14th of that year to choose officers. The meeting was called to order and the following were elected to office: Jos. Farnham, moderater; Rev. Isaac Hasey, clerk; Tristram Copps, Jos. Farnham, Jos. Farnham Jr., selectmen; Howard Burrows, constable; Philip Door, Sr., Samuel Corson, surveyors of highways; Richard Hussey, Samuel Corson, fence viewers and field drivers, Joshua Kenney, Gilbert Perkins, hog-reeves; Joseph Farnham, Tristram Copps, Richard Dorr, Wardens.

The first gubernatorial election held in this town occurred in 1787, when the entire vote, 53, was cast for John Hancock.

At a meeting held March 12, 1787, to erect a new meeting house near the centre of the town, the following oath of allegiance was administered by the moderator, it being demanded in no undertain terms that all public officers be intensely loyal:

“I, — — do truly and solemnly acknowledge, profess, testify and declare that the Common Wealth is and of right ought to be a free sovereign and independent State, and I do swear that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the said commonwealth, and that I will defend the same against treacherous conspiracies and all hostile attempts whatsoever, and that I do abjure and renounce all allegiance, subjection and obedience to the King, Queen or government of Great Britian, and every other foreign power whatsoever, and that no foreign prince, person, prelate, state or potentate, hath or ought to have, any jurisdiction, superiority, pre-eminence or power in any matter civil, ecclesiastical or spiritual within the commonwealth, except the authority and power which is or may be vested by their constituents in the Congress of the United States; and I do further testify and declare that no man or body of men hath or can have any right to absolve or discharge me from the obligation of this oath, declaration or affirmation, and that I do make this acknowledgement, profession, testimony, declaration, denial, denunciation and abjuration heartily and according to the common meaning and acceptation of the foregoing words without any Mental Evasion or Secret Reservation Whatsoever, So help me God.”

Two men, Thomas Hall and Ezekiel Wentworth, were ordered to leave town within two weeks, under penalty of law for having come into town without a permit. Thos. M. Wentworth was elected a delegate to the Boston Convention. The selectmen of Lebanon and Shapleigh met March 24, 1790, in obedience to legislative order, and established the line between the two towns.

Daniel Wood and David Legro were chosen delegates to the Constitutional Convention, which met at Portland in 1819. The Constitution was ratified by this town by a vote of 109 in favor and 3 against.

MILITARY MATTERS.

The first military men mentioned in connection with Lebanon were Capts. Elisha Plaisted and Samuel Sewell, 1737, and Capt. Moses Butler, Col. Wm. Wentworth, Col. John Wentworth and Col. Thos. Wallingford, in 1750. In 1782, the resident officers were Capt. Jno. Hayes and Lieut. John Kenney. Afterwards there were Capts. Nathl. Jones, Geo. Gerrish, David Libby, David Jones, Lewis Chamberlin, Benj. Lord, Thos. Wentworth. In 1833, there were Capt. Oliver Hanscom of the Falls company and Capt. Wm. Hanscom of the Old Road company.

CIVIL WAR.

The record of each soldier in the great civil war is sufficient for his town's glory. We of today can add nothing by our words to what they have done. The simple mention of their names is all that we can do and it is sufficient. The list follows:

CIVIL WAR SOLDIERS.

Wm. Berry, Francis Butler, Jno. E. Blaisdell, Oel Blaisdell, Thos. Blaisdell, Jas. C. Blaisdell, Millett Blaisdell, Wm. F. Butler, Jas. W. Clark, Geo. W. Corson, David Corson, A. P. Downs, Chas. H. ## CHURCHES

CONGREGATIONAL.

In 1742, in accordance with the provision of their grant the proprietors ordered the building of a church. But a lack of funds prevented its erection until 1753-4. There was no minister till the spring of 1754, April, when one service was held, and in June when another was held. The following year the extent to which the spiritual side of the community was ministered was doubled, there being an arrangement for preaching four Sabbaths during the year.

In 1758, Rev. Ezra Thompson was engaged to preach four months. Rev. M. Pike was one of a committee, in 1763, to hire a minister, but it is not known whether he ever preached here himself. Rev. Isaac Hasey was Lebanon's first settled minister, his pastorate beginning about Jan.

26, 1765. He was ordained at the house of Ephraim Blaisdell, June 26, 1765, and a church covenant signed the same day by Revs. Isaac Hasey, Jos. Farnham, Ephraim Blaisdell, Edward Burrows, Richard Door, and Jos. Farnham, Jr. Mr. Hasey was to receive, according to his agreement with the proprietors, $290 during the first eight years of his ministry, and $245 per year after that time, so long as he continued to be the town's minister; also the use of the house they had built for him, as well as the use of all the ministerial lands in town, and the lots drawn for the first minister.

Mr. Hasey moved with his family into the house provided, and continued to occupy it for some years. Later he was given the house by the proprietors, and he moved it to one of two home lots he had acquired by purchase or otherwise, to the south of the meeting house. At this point, in this same house, improved and added to from time to time, he continued to live till his death, in 1812. Mr. Hasey's pastorate lasted forty-seven years, almost half a century, beginning when he was but 24 years. The first birth recorded in town is that of his son, Isaac, Jr., with the date of June 21, 1766.

In 1771 the town voted to repair the church building and the work was done the following year, many changes being made to the great improvement of the structure. Until 1786 the people continued to worship here, but at that time, there having been a great influx of settlers in the vicinity of Little Falls, a vote was passed that the meetings on Lord's day should be holden one-half the time at the centre of the town.

Since the proprietors had failed to meet the minister's salary, it became necessary to petition the General Court in 1787 asking for jurisdiction over the lands sufficient to enforce its collection. Their demands were complied with.

By 1796 the population of the town had so increased that the town voted to erect a new meeting house at the centre. Two years later, 1798, this was done and the people provided with a much larger and better furnished edifice.

In October, 1812, occurred the death of Rev. Mr. Hasey, at the age of 71. His demise was the occasion of sincere regret as he had been a faithful pastor and an able preacher. His death was a distinct loss to the town. Rev. Paul Jewett succeeded Mr. Hasey, coming into town in December 1812, and being ordained April 13, 1814, at the house of Deacon Jno. Moody. He was dismissed at his own request Oct. 5, 1819.

Although Mr. Jewett's pastorate was short, it was productive of good, he being a man of resource, energy and decision. Many were added to the church during his stay. However it was during his residence in town that the famous lawsuit over the church property began, and was not settled till after much dissention had been engendered among all the inhabitants. The suit was finally closed with a victory for the parish, the lands being given to the Orthodox Congregational Society for the support of the ministry in accordance with the grant to the proprietors.

It is recorded somewhere in the town traditions, that during this contest a party of each church—Baptist and Congregationlist—set forth one Monday morning to cut the grass upon the ministerial lot. Both parties as the custom of the day called for, were bountifully supplied with the ardent. A deacon on one side and a particularly voluble member on the other, became engaged in a quarrel in which words were discarded in a large measure and a hand to hand encounter ensued. Soon the deacon was heard to cry from under his antagonist, "Take this fly off! Take this fly off!" From this quarrel the suit ensued.

The funds of the church have been augmented by the following: A fund of $500 by Gen. Lord, South Berwick, 1820-23; a fund of $2000 by Hon. T. M. Wentworth, 1877.

The following have been pastors of the church since Mr. Jewett's departure: Rev. James Weston, Feb. 10, 1824 to Jan. 26, 1836; Rev. Joseph Loring, Oct. 12, 1836 to February 1853. There was no settled minister for several years, though in 1856 or 1857, Rev. Mr. Fobes was ordained, but failing health prevented him from assuming active work in the parish. Next came Rev. John H. Garmon, Sept. 18, 1860 to Sept. 27, 1865; Benj. G. Page, Sept. 27, 1865 to 1866; Rev. John Parsons, Nov. 9, 1869 to May 31, 1875; Rev. N. Sinnett, May 31, 1875; Rev. S. Dodge, 1878-84; Rev. J. S. Closson, 1885-8; Rev. H. E. Thygeson, 1889-90; Rev. W. W. Dow, 1891-2; Rev. J. S. Curtis, 1893-6. Rev. A. E. Lambert, 1897-9; Rev. Edw. C. Haynes, 1900-3; Rev. H. S. Savory, 1905-1906.

BAPTIST CHURCH.

As early as 1790 a few Baptist families were residing in the southeast part of the town. Six years later Deacon

Nath'l Guptill, of Berwick, became interested at an Association meeting and through his invitation a minister was sent here. The first meetings in Lebanon were held in a bark house belonging to Mr. Gowen. A number of conversions occurred here and in August, 1797, a Baptist society was formed. Not long after Elder John Chadbourne was engaged to preach for them for a period of six months. Deacon Guptill was baptized and united with the Sanford Church. By 1799 they were voted the use of the old meetinghouse and also the new one whenever Mr. Hasey was absent. October 22, 1800, they united with others living in Berwick to the extent of 47 in all to form the Berwick and Lebanon Baptist Church. At the time of the division of the town of Berwick this church has been known as the North Berwick and Lebanon Church. Rev. Z. Delano was ordained pastor June 31, 1801, and remained pastor for exactly 30 years, during which time there were added to this church 100 members. Supplies served till 1836-8, when Rev. John Boyd added 49 members to the Society, during two years while he was in charge of the church.

The following presents a fairly accurate list of the pastors following Mr. Boyd:

Revs. J. E. Strong, 1839-44; J. K. Chase, 1845-47; Noah Hooper, 1847-49; Jno. Hubbard, 1852; B. F. Hubbard, 1852-59; T. J. Swett, 1860-61; S. G. Gilman, 1862; A. H. Gould, 1863-66; G. D. Balentine, 1867; T. Bachelder, 1868-71. Colby University supplies till the settlement of W. H. Copeland, 1876; H. M. Sawtelle, 1877-84; H. M. Hopkins, 1885-6; W. H. S. Ventres, 1889-92; Supplies, 1893-4; D. Webster, 1895-01; H. Maider, 1902-4; C. E. Bonsefield.

FREE BAPTIST.

A Free Will Baptist Society and Church were organized in 1795. They bought the old meeting house and moved it to West Lebanon village where they continued to worship till 1832, when they tore it down and erected a new house on the cross-road a short distance east from where the old one had stood. We are unable to furnish a list of pastors prior to 1880, but include the names since that date: J. G. Munsey, 1881; A. L. Hutchinson, 1881-3; F. E. Briggs, 1885-6; N. C. Lothrop, 1887-90; L. C. Graves, 1891; Chas. E. Foster, 1892-4; F. B. Nelson, 1895-8; H. H. Hathaway, 1899; S. A. Jones, 1900-02; to present vacant.

The Second Free Will Baptist Society was organized in 1834, made up principally of people in the northeasterly part of the town. They soon erected a house of worship at North Lebanon, where they still continue to worship. Their pastors since 1880 have been: To 1880, Geo. S. Hill; Francis Reed, 1881-2; Jno. M. Pease, 1883-4; S. D. Church, 1885-6; A. H. Milliken, 1888-9; W. T. Smith, 1890-91; E. J. Boardman, 1892; Franklin Blake, 1893-7; W. L. Bradeen, 1898-9. G. E. Kneeland, 1900-2; F. A. Palmer, 1904-6; D. B. Newell, 1907.

Census-1907

The population of the towns of Shapleigh, Newfield, Acton, Lebanon and Parsonsfield has been arranged in families where that arrangement has been possible. In addition to the resident living members, the names of the non-resident members are included. It should be borne in mind that this plan does not include the names of all former residents of this town, as the names of the non-residents appear only when one or both of the parents are still living in the town. After the name of each non-resident will be found the present address, when such address has been given to us. Non-residents are indicated by the (*).

When a daughter in a family has married, her name taken in marriage appears after her given name in parenthesis, the name preceded by a small m, thus: (m     ).

Following the names of the population is the occupations. To designate these we have used the more common abbreviations and contractions, as follows: Farmer—far; carpenter—car; railroad service—R R ser; student, a member of an advanced institution of learning—stu; pupil, a member of a lower grade of schools (including all who have reached the age of five years)—pl; housework—ho; laborer—lab; physician and surgeon—phy & sur; clergyman—clerg; merchant—mer; teacher—tr; blacksmith—blk; clerk—cl; bookkeeper—bk kpr; lawyer—law; mechanic mech; machinist—mach; engineer—eng; maker—mkr; worker—wkr; work—wk; shoe shop operative—ss op; cotton or woolen mill operatives—mill op; weaver—weav; spinner—spin; electrician—elec; painter—ptr; carriage work—car wk; dress maker—dr mkr; insurance—ins; traveling salesman, or commercial traveler—sales, or coml trav; music teacher—mus tr; teamster—team; general work—genl wk; mariner—mar; employ—emp; retired—ret; telephone operative—tel op; telegraph operative—teleg op.

This Census was taken expressly for this work during the Summer of 1907, by Rev. B. V. Davis, of Kents Hill, Me.

Census of Shapleigh

NOTE—Where no address is given Shapleigh is understood. Other post offices are abbreviated as follows: North Shapleigh—No; Emery's Mills—Mills; Ross Corner—Cor; Springvale—Spr'vl. R. F. D. Routes are designated by the number.

SPRINGVALE HISTORY

Several months ago a gentleman came to us and said, "Why do you have to charge more for your straw matting than Chicago mail order houses? I sent there for some matting over four months ago and haven't received it yet, guess its gone up in Canada as we can't get trace of it."

We asked him if he saw what he bought.

"Why, no, but I thought from their description it was all right."

"Would you buy of us without seeing goods?"

"Probably not."

"How many yards did you want?"

"About thirty-two."

"You had to buy a whole roll, did you not? Forty yards."

"Yes."

"Were you to pay for the goods on arrival?"

"No, I had to send money with the order, four months ago."

"Now, my friend, we will tell you just why it looks as though you were paying more for your goods here than from Chicago. In the first place, here you see just the piece of goods you are purchasing, you buy just the quantity you want, goods are delivered at your home at once. If you want to pay for them on arrival we allow a liberal discount. You have no freight charges to settle, no damages to fix up with the railroad company, everything is unpacked ready for use. And when you take into consideration the freight and bother, carting etc. together with the grade of goods you get you will be surprised to find that you have not saved any money."

We sold him some matting to take the peace of that which went astray and have since sold him all he has had to have in our line.

We handle a good line of

Furniture, Carpets, Crockery, Wall Paper, Lace Curtains, Window Shades, and Kitchen Furnishings

and if in want of any information in regard to anything in this line just drop a card and we shall be glad to give you any information you desire. When in Springvale you are cordially invited to make our store your headquarters.

PAYING A VISIT

to our stores will be both pleasant and profitable. Pleasant because of the fine quality of the drugs on view. Profitable because of the values offered.

GOOD JUDGES OF DRUGS

say they do not understand now we can offer such qualities at such prices. Well, that's our secret. It need not bother you so long as you get first class drugs at second and even third class prices.

Mail orders carefully and promptly attended to.

LIMERICK, MAINE

Capital $50,000.00

Surplus and Profits $80,695.00

We transact a general banking business, make collections, negotiate loans and discount paper, and furnish Boston or New York exchange on reasonable terms.

Attention is called to our steady increase in deposits as shown by our books under the following dates:

May 20, 1884	April 6, 1889	April 7, 1894	April 6, 1899	August 6, 1907
$10,948.75	$72,135.30	$245,766.43	$340,128.88	$590,653.38

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT

We solicit accounts of merchants, manufacturers and people in every line of business. We furnish check books free and pay our checks daily at par through the Boston Clearing House.

INTEREST DEPARTMENT

Intended for people who desire the privilege of checking against their deposits at any time in the same manner as on regular business accounts, while receiving interest on the undisturbed balance at as high rate as can safely be paid by any Savings Bank. Deposits on or before the 10th of each month draw interest from the 1st day of the month in which the deposit is made. Dividends credited April 30th, August 31st and December 31st compounding with the principal three times a year.

HOME SAVINGS DEPARTMENT

Established for children and small earners. Accounts received from $1.00 up and deposits made on or before the 15th of January, April, July or October draw interest from the 1st day of those months. Two dividends a year. Amounts withdrawn only by witnessed order accompanied by the Pass Book. Dividends April 1st and October 1st.
